PAIR HELD FOR MURDER OF POLICE OFFICER, TWO HOLD-UPS AND THEFT OF AN AUTOMOBILE

Alleged Bandits Captured by Patrolman Charles Donnell, Single-Handed, in Norwood—Pair Admit Being in Murder Car—Seek Third Member

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—The murder of a man Joseph E. Gonyea to death in Norwood, when he attempted to halt them, believing that their automobile was one reported stolen on Saturday. As the police pieced together the activities of the alleged bandit trio with the aid of identifications of the prisoners by two holdup victims, the three on Friday night stole an automobile belonging to Mrs. William Hurwitz of the Dorchester district and about midnight on Saturday, drove to a Somerville garage. It is charged that after getting gas Sunday morning by shooting Patrol-

SEVEN OFFENDERS IN DISTRICT COURT FOR VIOLATION OF AUTOMOBILE LAWS

Despite most vehement protests and warning from authoritative sources, violations of the automobile laws continue in this city. In district court this morning, seven offenders appeared to answer various charges. James Gleason pleaded guilty to operating without license or registration and paid a fine of $100 on the former charge and $10 on the latter. He was arrested in Norwood yesterday by Officer William Canole, who stated that he caused a stampede in a crowd that had gathered near the scene of a previous accident.

Armand Perrault collided with Motorcycle Officer Kivlan's vehicle at the corner of West Sixth and Ennall streets last night, and then kept right on going. Lieut. Patrick Frawley, who was riding in Officer Kivlan's sidecar, ordered a chase and when Perrault was apprehended, it

STATE POLICE ARE CALLED IN TO INVESTIGATE DEATH OF BILLERICA WOMAN

State and Billerica police are investigating the death of Mrs. Jennie Poikonen, a young and attractive Finnish woman of North Billerica, which occurred last Friday morning at the Lowell General hospital after a brief illness and which is alleged to have been caused by an illegal operation. State Officer O'Neil was expected in Billerica this afternoon to confer with Chief Henry D. Livingston of the Billerica department and Assistant Medical Examiner Mason D. Bryant of Lowell. They will question the woman's husband, John Poikonen and her stepfather, Hyalmer Wickstrom, an operative at the Talbot mill in North Billerica.

Mrs. Poikonen had lived in North Billerica about one year, having come there from Maynard, where she was widely known as a court interpreter, doing a great deal of such work in Maynard and Fitchburg.

MUTINOUS MOVEMENT OF GREEK MILITARY FORCES REPORTED

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Messages from Athens indicating a mutinous movement by Greek military forces, were received by Reuters this afternoon in fragmentary form. One message, timed in Athens at 3.30 o'clock read: "The mutineers have been warned to disperse within one hour or they will be humiliated by airplanes." Another message time 12.40 p. m., read: "General Metaxas and the directors of his newspapers have disappeared."

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Lowell-Bound Freight Train Ran Over Switch at Medford Junction

Two Engines Derailed and Topped Into Ditch—Eight Cars Smashed

MEDFORD JUNCTION, Oct. 22.—W. L. Taylor, engineer, of Wickford, R. I., and H. E. Russell, brakeman, of Providence, were killed when two freight engines were derailed and toppled into the ditch 50 yards south of the Medford Junction station on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad today. G. Monodie, fireman, and H. A. Beaudri, brakeman, both of Providence, were cut and bruised but not seriously injured. A freight train bound from Providence for Lowell, heavily laden and with two locomotives, was approaching the station here with signals said to have been set against it and ran over a switch. Both engines went into the ditch and eight cars were smashed up and their contents strewn over the tracks. Taylor was hurled to the Lowell General hospital and Russell was alive when rescued and died shortly afterward. Both tracks were blocked for several hours.

FOUR-CORNERED BATTLE IN WARD FOUR

The political pot will boil in ward 4 this year if nowhere else. Already that district has four representatives in the fight for ward councilor and the lists still are open. Newcomers today were William F. Shay, 24 Prospect street, and James McManus, 21 Irving street. It is now a four-cornered battle with Councilor Frederick A. Sadler and School Committee member J. Eugene Mullin already chasing their brown derbies around the ring.

A third candidate for the council from ward 4 appeared today in the person of John J. Connors, 2 Summer street court. The school committee fight, which will mean the election of two men or women for a three-year term, is as quiet as South Carleton on a Sunday morning. Only one candidate, Cornelius J. Sullivan, has taken out nomination papers.

Although registration sessions are held daily from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., the election commissioners have announced special sessions on Oct. 30 and 31 and Nov. 1, 2, 3 and 5, when new voters may register during the regular hours and between 7 and 9 p. m., as well.

Enters Council Fight
Mr. Peter P. McEnimmon informs The Sun that he will be a candidate for the council from Ward 3. When in the council before he was elected at large.

BABY TO BE GIVEN WINNER OF RACE

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A dozen men and women will line up at a given point on 108th street today to begin a race to Bellevue hospital where six-months-old Jane Doe is apparently enjoying life in the foundling ward.

The individual who travels the six odd miles to the hospital first will be Jane's foster father—or mother.

Jane, who seems perfectly happy right where she is, was found on Saturday by Martin Manning outside the door of his apartment. She was well dressed and fed, and everyone who saw her wanted her. So many applications arrived that officials could think of no other way of deciding the question than by putting to a test of speed.

At least one of the contestants will ride in a limousine. Others will try the subway, others the elevated railway.

A traffic jam may decide Jane's fate.

HIS FIRST MILLION

Stowaway Here Five Weeks Sends Mother in Germany His First Million—Marks

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Although he is but 15 years old and has been in the land of opportunity but five weeks, Walter Schultze today sent his mother at Emden, Germany, his first million—in marks.

Arrested as he slept fitfully on a chilly "Y" station bench this morning, he told the police he had arrived in Hoboken as a stowaway on the steamship Solsdam, and had managed to run enough errands to provide food, though lodgings were out of the question. Of $150 he had earned, he sent $120—270,000 marks—to his destitute mother.

The police listened, sympathized, fed him and gave him $5, which he promptly returned with instructions to forward it to his mother. He wrote:

"Dear Mother:—A man took me to the police station where they gave me some coffee—not a cup, but a whole can full. The police gave me $5 and I am sending it to you—1,200,000 marks. May God bless you."

Then he went to the children's society.

"HELP, QUICK," SAYS MESSAGE

Two Women and Infant From Pembroke, Maine, Aboard

Message Says Ship Pounding to Pieces in Heavy Seas—Passengers Taking to Boats

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—The United Fruit Co. steamer San Gil, reporting sinking southwest of Jamaica, is believed to have had on board nine passengers, including two women and an infant. Two others who sailed on the steamer from this port, were bound for Havana, and are supposed to have left the vessel there. She carried a crew of 31.

The addresses of the San Gil's passengers, furnished by the United Fruit Co., here are as follows:

Mrs. G. A. Gourley and infant, Pembroke, Me.
R. R. Grenblad, Boston.
C. W. Smith, Dorchester district, Boston.
Arthur A. McIntyre, Boston.
J. R. Fisher, Gloucester.
W. J. Fitzgerald, R. H. Brown and Miss Hilda Marino, all of Boston.

The two passengers who landed at Havana were Sidney A. Roundlet and Arthur Scheydecker, addresses unknown.

"Help, Quick," Said Message
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The steamer San Gil, out of Boston for Havana, Colon and Port Limon, reported by radio at 5.20 this morning, that she was sinking in heavy seas southwest of Jamaica. She gave her position as latitude 13.32, longitude 81.20 west.

The message, received by the Independent Wireless Telegraph Co., station at Easthampton, N. Y., said: "Weather heavy—pounding to pieces—passengers taking to boats. Hurry help."

It then gave the position. The radio station immediately sent out the call "QRT" signalling all other stations to stop sending. Fifteen minutes later another call was received from the San Gil.

"Help, quick!" The message was broken off after the two words and no more was received.

FURTHER SEPARATIST EFFORTS IN THE RHINELAND REPORTED TO HAVE FAILED

Big Demonstrations in Crefeld, Hueydt and Giadbach, But Authorities Retained Possession of All Public Buildings—Rhenish Republic Proclaimed at Gross-Gerau

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Further separatist efforts in the Rhineland today are reported to have failed, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin.

There were big demonstrations in the streets of Crefeld, Hueydt and Giadbach, but the authorities retained possession of all the public buildings. A Frankfurt message says the separatists proclaimed the Rhenish republic at Gross-Gerau, which is a separatist stronghold in the Hesse area.

The authorities at Juelich, 16 miles north of Aix-la-Chapelle, successfully resisted these demonstrations. The police at Aix-la-Chapelle itself is considered to have been of doubtful success, and the separatists are quiet there today, but it is rumored the workers purpose declaring a general strike tomorrow.

The atmosphere of "Mariarden," the beautiful summer estate of Mrs. Guy W. Currier of Boston at Deterberg, N. H., together with visions of the Denishaws and other nymphs on the stage tripping o'er the dewy greenward, invaded the quiet of superior civil court this morning when the case of James S. Gray vs. Marie G. Currier went to trial before Judge Qua.

Mrs. Currier owns "Mariarden," sometimes called "The Garden of Marie," a summer camp for instruction of pupils in the dramatic arts and kindred matters. And there during the summer months the Denishaws and many other notable stage celebrities have received instruction.

Prior to the opening of the 1922 season at the camp Mrs. Currier entered into a written agreement with Mr. Darcy by the terms of which the latter was to dig a well, 50 or more feet in depth, at the rate of $1 per foot. This agreement was made Sept. 25, 1921, and the plaintiff, Darcy, claims that he performed the work, but has never been paid for it, despite frequent demands. The plaintiff further says that it was essential to sink the well 377 feet, therefore he is owed $376 with interest.

In a cross action brought by Mrs. Currier against Darcy, the plaintiff is seeking to recover damages of $8000, with interest. In her declaration Mrs. Currier states that it was essential that a supply of water should be procured at the camp by July 1, 1922, the date of the opening of the season, that the defendant knew this, and although repeatedly requested to proceed with the work, he delayed matters. It was therefore necessary for the plaintiff to lay a line of pipe more than 200 feet and to install pumps in order that the camp might have water. The plaintiff claims further, and because of this she was put to great expense.

Attorney Qua of Qua, Howard & Rogers appears for Darcy and Attorney William Nolan of the office of Guy W. Currier of Boston appears for Mrs. Currier.

AUTOMOBILISTS WARNED TO WATCH THEIR STEP

The Lawrence-Lowell boulevard is, in the opinion of the state inspectors of the registry of motor vehicles department, the most dangerous road in the vicinity of Lowell on a Saturday and all automobilists using this road are warned to "watch their step" if they desire to avoid being smashed up. Inspector Eugene Loupret is authority for this statement and he further says that it is practically impossible to remedy these conditions at the present time. Traffic congestion on this road, according to Mr. Loupret, is due to two

WAS JUSTIFIED IN PROTECTING PROPERTY

Mrs. Vienna L. Gads of Tyngsboro, who was confined in district court last Monday on a charge of carrying a revolver without a permit, was found not guilty of the charge by Judge Burdick this morning. According to the testimony offered at the original hearing, Mrs. Gads wielded an antique cut at two men who were cutting down trees near her property. She told the court the gun was absolutely worthless as a defensive weapon and that she used it only to scare the supposed intruders away. The court continued the case in order to confer with the district attorney's office, and today stated that the consensus of opinion was that the woman was justified in protecting her property.

Y., and Mrs. Westworth Witherell of Syracuse, N. Y. The body was removed to the funeral home of Undertakers George W. Healey, 236 Westford street.

BAILEY—Ernest E. Bailey, son of Constance L. and the late James E. Bailey of this city, died suddenly yesterday at his home in New York city, at the age of 46 years and 11 months. Mr. Bailey was born in this city and resided here all his life, living at 34 Fay street until about five years ago, when he moved to New York city. He is survived by his mother; one sister, Mrs. Edith G. Caverly; one brother, James E. Bailey, and one niece, Constance D. Caverly, all of this city. He was affiliated with Lowell council 8, Royal Arcanum. The body will be removed to Saunders' funeral home, 271 Appleton street, this city.

SWEATT—Albion Sweatt died at his home, 42 Eighteenth street, last evening at the age of 73 years. He leaves his wife, Clara F. Sweatt; one daughter, Miss Sadie M. Sweatt; one son, Herbert A. Sweatt of Lowell; and Walter T. Sweatt of New York city; two brothers, Clarence Sweatt of Dracut, and Ellsworth E. Sweatt of this city; one sister, Mrs. Samuel A. Richardson of Pelham, N. H., and one grand-daughter, Helen F. Sweatt. He was a charter member of the Central-ville lodge, I.O.O.F., and had been a resident of Lowell for the past 57 years.

MCCANN—Mrs. Mary (Britton) McCann, a former well known young resident of the Sacred Heart parish, died Saturday evening at the Lynn hospital, Lynn, after a brief illness. She leaves her husband, Eugene McCann; her parents, John and Catherine (Heard) Britton; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret McCann, Mrs. James Justin, and Miss Ethel Britton, and four brothers, Plous, William, Fred and Everett Britton. The body was removed to the home of her parents, 428 Lundberg street, by Undertakers O'Connell & Fay.

FERRIN—John E. Ferrin, Jr., son of John E. and Nora (McDonnell) Ferrin, and a popular student of the Moray school, died this noon at the home of his parents, 151 Princeton street, after a brief illness, aged 10 years. Besides his parents he leaves four sisters, Winifred, Madeline, Loretta and Mary Bernice.

CONKLIN—Charles Waite Conklin, formerly of this city, died Saturday at the Salem hospital. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annette (Pearson) Conklin, and one daughter, Annette. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 1:30 from his late residence at Beach bluff.

LECLAIRE—George Ernest Leclaire, son of Emile and Emma (Couture) Leclaire, died yesterday at the home of his parents, 60 Bachman street, aged 6 months and 10 days.

MARION—Yvonne Marion, only child of Ovin and Alexina (Carpenter) Marion, died this morning at the home of her parents, 650 Suffolk street, aged 6 years, 11 months and 15 days.

Plan Out-of-Door Gymna-stium on North Common in Honor of Sullivan

Yesterday afternoon, in the rooms of the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum in Suffolk street, a real, homelike reception was tendered Lowell's internationally famous channel conqueror, Henry Sullivan. Although feted and banqueted in leading cities and towns in England and France, and later welcomed home by an entire city, the celebrated swimmer was never more enthusiastically received than he was yesterday by the members of the organization under whose colors he overcame the treacherous and uncertain tides of the channel. As a token of their sincere appreciation for his interest in the Lyceum, the members yesterday presented their distinguished leader a gold-engraved tablet, entitling him to life membership, together with an extensive cigar-holder. The presentations were made by Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, spiritual director of the C.Y.M.L.

JOHN J. MAHONEY,

Among the invited guests present at the exercises were Rev. John J. McGarry, D.D., pastor of St. Patrick's church, Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., of St. Patrick's; Rev. James E. Lynch and Rev. Thomas J. Heagney of St. Michael's; Mayor Donovan, Mr. Thomas B. Sullivan, father of the swimmer; John J. Conlon, his trainer, and Capt. N. Leslie Smith of Winthrop his pilot. The meeting was called to order shortly before 3 o'clock by President John J. Mahoney, who introduced Charles McGarry as the first caterpillar on the extensive program. Mr. McGarry obliged with a piano selection, "Sweet Adeline," the entire assembly joining in the chorus. Raymond O'Brien then rendered "Midnight Rose."

The first speaker of the day was

TIMOTHY F. ROGAN,
Committee Chairman.

Rev. Dr. McGarry. "This is a wonderful occasion for the C.Y.M.L.," he said. "The plaudits of a few days ago are still ringing in our ears, plaudits for a great feat and the man who did it. And so I wish to compliment the members for the wonderful reception and the vast amount of work it entailed. To have brought it to so successful a conclusion is one of the many glories of the C.Y.M.L. Henry Sullivan comes to us as a fellow-citizen. We know what he did. We know the trials and struggles he underwent in previous years, and we know that he has certainly put the C.Y.M.L. on the map and no one will forget the four made letters."

"Henry still clung to the Lyceum when he might have allied himself to some bleaker and more prominent organization. But that's Henry all over. His modesty is recognized by all, and this virtue is one of the marks, according to Kipling, of a real man. I only hope now that the suggestion I made in the Auditorium last Tuesday night concerning the erection of a memorial in one of our parks or commons, will soon bear fruit. I mention the North common as a possible site for an enduring memorial because it is near the Lyceum. It would mean a wonderful development in the city's park improvements and would also open a pathway of activity in athletic matters. I'm heart and soul with the

LIGHTS FOR FORT HILL
TOBOGGAN SLIDE

In anticipation of the winter season Supr. John W. Kernan of the park department soon will have a conference with officials of the Electric Light Co. relative to a rearrangement of wires and are lights at Fort Hill to afford better illumination for the toboggan slide to be erected there by the department. The slide will be built in approximately the same location as last year and the need of better lighting is imperative.

NEW AUTOMOBILE FOR
POLICE DEPARTMENT

The police department has made requisition upon the mayor for a new touring car to be added to its equipment and will be advertised for bid tomorrow along with the new coupe for the street department.

The police requisition, approved by Mayor John J. Donovan, was received by Purchasing Agent Edward Donnelly this noon. It specifies a seven-passenger touring model of six cylinders, not to exceed in cost $1650, plus a Model K 45 Buick, now in use to be figured in exchange.

The coupe for the street department will be a six-cylinder car, not to exceed in cost $1400.

The purchasing agent today opened the following bids for the Chelmsford street hospital:

1000 pounds gluten: Edward H. Foye, $26.50; W. M. Wilder, $35.50 per ton; James Palm and Son, $27; Charles Day, $27.50

1000 pounds cornmeal: Foye, $23; Wilder, $45 per ton; Palm, $24; Day, $23.50

3000 pounds mixed feed: Foye, $35; Wilder, $39.50; Palm, $38; Day, $39.

WILL GIVE MUSICAL
PROGRAM IN BOSTON

The Lowell High School Military band, John J. Giblin, instructor, will give a musical program on Friday at the Tremont theatre in Boston as part of the afternoon program of the 68th annual meeting of the Middlesex County Teachers' association. It is a high honor that has been conferred upon the local musical organization and a tribute to its rapid advancement this year under the direction of Mr. Giblin.

In order to allow Lowell teachers to attend the convention the public schools will remain closed on Friday.

The convention will be subdivided into three divisions, intermediate, kindergarten and primary and high school, to be held in Tremont Temple, Tremont theatre, Lorimer hall, Ford hall and Gardner hall at the state house.

Lyceum in everything it attempts and the sky is the limit."

At the conclusion of the pastor's address, President Mahoney announced that the board of directors of the Lyceum were about to petition the park commission for the erection of the contemplated memorial. He then presented Frank McGarry in a solo number, "Midnight Rose," and Victor Bernadini in a series of accordion selections.

Rev. Fr. Lynch was the second speaker. He said he was present, with Fr. Heagney, as a representative of Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor of St. Michael's church, which Sullivan attends. He added that St. Michael's parish feels proud of her famous son for his wonderful accomplishment and agreed with Dr. McGarry that something should be done to perpetuate the great deed in order, he said, that the name of Henry F. Sullivan should go down in history as a tribute to genuine grit and determination.

"When Will the Sun Shine For Me?" was John Quinn's contribution to the entertainment following Fr. Lynch's remarks. Rev. Dr. Supple was then introduced and pleaded for a continuation of the faith displayed in old St. Patrick's by pioneer parishioners. He related the story of an aged woman who came to him in the rectory a few days ago and said that the only two affairs that could fill the Memorial Auditorium were those of John McCormack and St. Patrick's parish. Like the preceding speakers, he congratulated Sullivan on his achievement.

The pleasing insertion of entertainment numbers was again in evidence here with the rendition of "Maggie" by Charles Irwin, just before Capt. Smith was presented. The pilot was accorded three ringing cheers and a tiger as he arose. He began by telling of his voyaging a recent newspaper account of a boat in the English channel trying vainly to land during a storm. Unsuccessful attempts were made, he said, at Calais, Dover and Folkestone, and the Americans on that boat can readily appreciate the task Henry had in completing the trip in which it can truly state he "blew a great many bubbles."

Two delightful Irish solos were sung by J. P. Wheahan previous to the introduction of Fr. McDonough. The popular spiritual director spoke of the possibility of an outdoor gymnasium and running track on the North common where other young men might be trained to emulate the feat of Henry, whom he declared to be a credit and an inspiration to the organization. He then presented the cigar-holder and the life-membership card.

In accepting the gifts, the guest of honor said he appreciated the C.Y.M.L. reception more than anything else and thanked the members for the confidence they had vested in him. "I'm just the first Yank to swim the 'dinky little ditch,'" he said, "while most other Americans, according to the English, come over to cross the bar." After paying tribute to Messrs. Conlon and Smith for their wonderful assistance in the struggle, Henry recounted his channel swim, which is now familiar to everyone. He concluded by presenting to the Lyceum a framed series of photographs depicting his 27-hour swim. The gift was accepted by President Mahoney on behalf of the members and will repose in a conspicuous place in the rooms.

Other speakers were His Honor, the Mayor, and James J. Bruin, who was chairman of the Auditorium reception. Both extended their congratulations to the swimmer and wished him many future successes. Among the other entertainers were John Kennedy and Thomas Carter in a harmonical duet, and Frank Walker and John Brophy in solo selections.

A buffet luncheon was served. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Timothy J. Rogan, chairman; John F. Murphy, James P. Saunders, Frank O'Neill, John McGinness, Patrick McGarrell and James P. Whelan.

Steger of Michigan Is
All-America Prospect

By N.E.A. Service

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 22.—In Herbert Steger, sensational university of Michigan halfback, followers of the Maize and Blue football eleven see another candidate for All-American honors.

Steger, today, ranks as one of the best gridirers Yost has had in seasons. Capt. Harry Kipke not excepted. Fleet of foot, a good forward passer, splendid punter, and an expert field goal kicker, the former Oak park lad is a triple threat artist de luxe. There is no getting away from that. He also is as good a bet as the Wolverines' best on the receiving end of a pass, having the uncanny ability to grab "out of the air" on almost impossible chances.

This is Steger's second year on the Yost machine. In 1922 he was handicapped by illness, and only got into the game in a substitute's role. But even so he lived up to the reputation he established in his high school days.

In the games that Michigan has played this season, Steger has been one of the outstanding stars. Thus far he has even outshone the great Kipke. And that in itself is something. For the Wolverine leader is generally conceded to be one of the best footballers in the country.

Next season will be Steger's last for Michigan. Already he is being groomed to take Kipke's place. And with another year's experience he should come pretty close to equalling Harry's three-year record.

Steger may not be able to win an All-America berth this fall though if he keeps up his early season performance he should come very near turning the trick. But with another campaign behind him he will loom as an almost certainty on the mythical aggregation.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents
H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
 Sager Midgley, ably assisted by Adele Jason, will lead the present week's show at the H. F. Keith theatre, with their inimitable mixture of joy and song called "Hello, Wife." Midgley's name is very well known in entertainment circles, for his work as a light comedian. The act ought to score heavily. Mardo & Rome will give "A Collision of Fun," an act which is a riot and which concerns descriptions of automobiles. It is given in the very dialect, Fleurette Jeoffrie, the chic French singer, who will also appear on the bill, possesses temperament and a voice of sweetness and power. She is almost alone among the big singers of vaudeville. Tex McLeod, champion fencer of the world, will demonstrate just how he does his marvelous work, and Albrecht & Harte will give a touch of the white lights on Broadway, with their singing and fun. Then there are Ford & Price, marvels of the silver, with who will dance in mid-air. The week's picture is "Loyal Lives."

MERRIMACK SQUARE

A picture story with a happy ending for "Lola Neri." That is something which the patrons of this celebration person will see in "The Cheat," her latest Paramount picture produced by George Fitzmaurice, which is now on view at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. The story, written by Irene Turpin, is said to be one of the most delightful ones she has ever essayed.

The story of "The Cheat" deals with a wealthy girl of San Antonio, a Parisian, who, to avoid wedding an old man chosen by her father, elopes with a young American. In Paris she is loved by an art swindler, disguised as an Indian Prince who follows her to New York. The girl is disinherited by her father, and turned to poverty, she accepts the supposed financial offer of money with which to gamble. At first she wins, then loses not only her own money but a charity fund entrusted to her. "Prize" strikes her, however, from the "prize" and promises to dine with him alone in return for the loan.

From this point on the action is rapid and races swiftly to one of the most climaxes ever seen on the screen. The ending is happy. The part of the husband is played by Jack Holt, popular Paramount star, while the role of mourns deliciously as fox-trotted by the California Ramblers. And how beautifully Dolly Kay can sing it!

"My Sweetie Went Away"

 the madcap adventures of a sprightly young miss who breaks away from her own wedding ceremony, leaving a milas a disappointed young easterner whose father, becoming disgusted at his son's wildness, ships him off to a western ranch, where after many hard knocks, he shows that he is not the jolly fellow that he appeared. Of course, there's a right smart pretty romance

 that runs through the story.

Chelmsford Honors Memory of Sons Who Made Supreme Sacrifice in the World War

GRANITE SHAFT IS DEDICATED

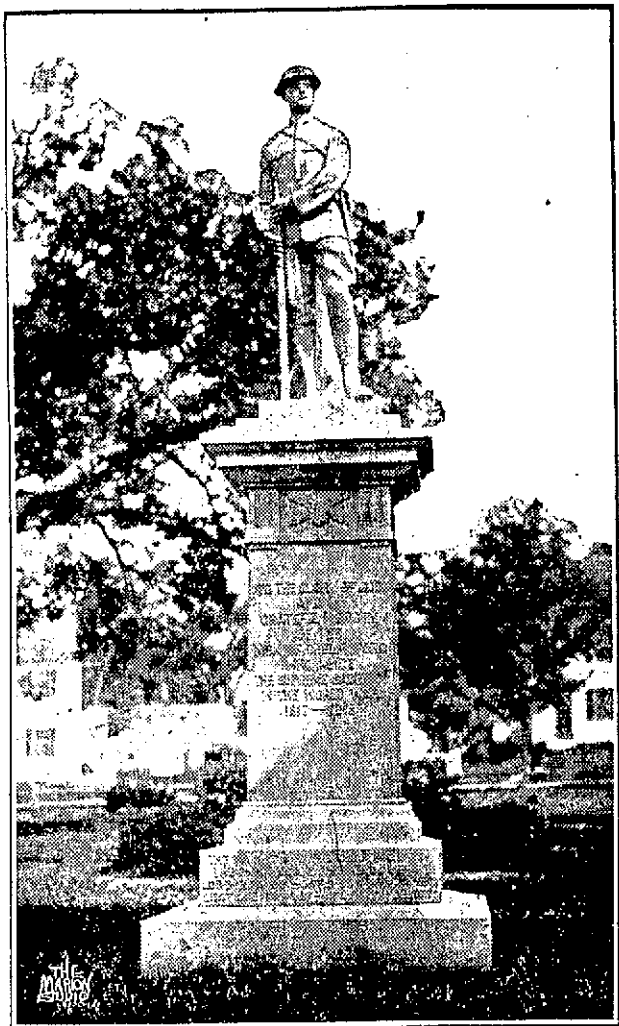

Gold Star Mothers, Clergy,
Town Officials and School Children There

Colonel Stevens and Rev.
James P. Sherry Give Stirring Addresses

In loving tribute to the memory of the brave youths of Chelmsford who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War, an imposing granite monument on the common in North Chelmsford was dedicated yesterday.

Gold star mothers, representatives of the clergy and the town officials participated in the dedicatory exercises which were conducted under plans arranged by three legionnaires, Commander John H. Valentine of Chelmsford post, Mayor John J. Donovan of Lowell, and Mrs. Elizabeth Miner, auxiliary president.

The invocation was offered by Rev. Francis P. Kenney, pastor of St. John's church. A "taps" was sounded the monument was unveiled by Mrs. John Vinal, Mrs. James Telly and Mrs. John J. Quigley. The presentation speech was made by John J. Monahan and the response of acceptance was delivered by Chairman George Rigby of the board of selectmen.

The boys whose memory was honored by the dedication of the monument were Wagoner Albertson W. Vinal, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vinal, 101st Engineer train, 26th division, who was killed in action at Boucy, France, June 19, 1918; Lieut. Ebert F. Telly, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Telly, Co. C, 47th Infantry, 4th division, killed in action at Bazoches, France, Aug. 10, 1918; Corp. George R. Quessy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Quessy, Battery F, 102nd P. A., 26th division, killed in action at Glovelles, France, Nov. 1, 1918.

A reading, "In Flanders Field," by Miss Mildred Hoar followed. High and grammar school pupils sang "Native Land" and "Tribute to the Soldier" under the direction of Miss Elsie Bourne, music supervisor of the Chelmsford schools.

Col. Charles A. Stevens of Lowell was one of the principal speakers. Col. Stevens said in part:

"We have assembled with a noble purpose to honor and revere the memory of three Chelmsford boys who gave their lives in battle. There is no greater glory. It is fitting indeed that the citizens of Chelmsford should erect a monument bearing the names of those boys. These names will be looked upon with respect by present and future citizens of the town. The boys were known by their comrades as ordinary mortals and as human beings. Their names have now become immortalized and children from this town will in future look upon them as saviors of their country. Their individual acts did not win the war and their death was only to be included among the countless of thousands which occurred during the struggle. Yet the deaths of Vinal, Telly and Quessy will serve as an example to the young men of this country, so long as Chelmsford can produce young men of that character, so long will Chelmsford be prosperous, and so long will the state and nation be ready to protect and give happiness for its such deeds as these young men performed shall we know them."

Rev. James P. Sherry of St. Anthony's church, Concord, who served as chaplain with the 102nd infantry, Y. P. O. 1, delivered a stirring oration and ended by quoting the inscription appearing at the base of the monument:

"The tumult and the shouting dies;
The captains and the kings depart;
Lord, God of Hosts, be with us yet;
Lest we forget, lest we forget!"

Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Charles H. Ellis of Chelmsford Centre and the program concluded with the playing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "The Star Spangled Banner" by the Chelmsford Brass band.

The monument was erected by a vote of the citizens of the town, the details being attended to by a citizens' committee composed of Rev. E. Ambrose Jenkins, John J. Monahan, Mark Ingham, John J. Garvey and Williston Carril.

John Binardi of the Lowell Monument Co. designed the monument which was carved in his shops in Gorham street. Mr. Binardi personally supervised the erection of the work, which is a fine example of his art and craftsmanship.

The monument is of blue white granite from Westbury, N. H. The base is six feet square and stands sixteen feet high with life size heroic figure of a soldier atop Gothic pedestal.

WM. M. WOOD SETS NEW DATE FOR OUTING

The outing for members of the Boston woolen trade which was to have been given last Saturday at Shawheen Village by President William M. Wood of the American Woolen Company was, at the last minute, postponed until next Saturday.

Mr. Wood's intention to act as host to upward of 500 members of the Boston trade, so that they might have an opportunity to inspect the newly organized community and also the Shawheen mill.

Coming from eight different states the agents, cashiers, and paymasters of the 63 mills of the American Woolen Co. christened in a manner, the company's new administration building by conducting a meeting within its portals Thursday. It was the first time that the building had been used for any company purpose.

The deliberations were presided over by Mr. Wood. At the conclusion of the meeting it was said that there was no statement to be made public as to what had occurred at the meeting, since the gathering was the same as those held periodically with the chief executive of the company.

oline they held up Charles Nelson, a negro attendant, taking $5 from him and a short time later in Dorchester forced David Davidoff to take a ride with them while they relieved him of $10 and valuable jewelry.

The police believe that the trio then drove to Readville, where Officer Gonyea recognized their machine's numbers as those of the stolen car, and commandeering an automobile, pursued them and forced them to stop. As he advanced with drawn revolver into the glare of the fugitive car's lights he was shot down. Three bullets wounded him fatally. The patrolman returned the fire but the car sped on past his prostrate body. The stolen car was later found abandoned and near it a bullet pierced raincoat which led the police to believe that the third hand had been wounded.

The capture of the two men was dramatically engineered by Officer Duggan in Norwood, who saw the two men walking through the marshes. One of them attempted to draw a revolver, but Duggan's draw was quicker, and he ushered both men at gun point to the station. Under grilling both confessed that they were in the automobile from which the shots were fired that killed Patrolman Gonyea.

High commendation has been received by Patrolman Duggan for his daring capture of the two men. The Norwood police were notified at 3.30 a. m. to watch for three men in a touring car who shot down Patrolman Gonyea two hours before, and night officers were scouring all roads leading into town.

At 5 a. m. Patrolman Duggan took an automobile and went down the boulevard to continue his search. At a point known as Upham road he came upon two men with disheveled clothing walking toward Dedham. They answered the description of two of the three men in the murder gang. Without asking questions he stopped his automobile and covered them with his revolver.

To ordered them into the front seat of his car and while he covered them with his revolver with one hand, with the other he drove the three miles to the Norwood police station.

On arriving at the station Patrolman Duggan questioned his prisoners and started searching them. There were no other officers in the station at the time. As he approached Morgan the latter attempted to pull a pistol on him from his hip pocket. Duggan, an amateur wrestler of ability, grabbed his hand, secured the revolver and with a quick grip sent him sprawling on the floor of the station. Keefe came to the assistance of his accomplice and was given the same treatment.

Keeping his two prisoners covered, Duggan called for the firemen on duty at the firehouse, located in another section of the building. With the assistance of six firemen who responded, Duggan then resumed the search of his prisoners.

Duggan is known in Lowell, where he has appeared in wrestling bouts.

THE JERITZA RECITAL

Lowell Recital One of Four
Before Opening of Metropolitan Opera Season

The Lowell recital of Jeritza on Wednesday evening will be one of four that the world famous prima donna and beauty will give before she opens the Metropolitan opera season with "Thais." Last spring following the close of the opera season she went on a concert tour of 15 large cities and the tour made history. In every one of them the Jeritza recital was a triumph. Packed houses everywhere made the 15 engagements net an average of $7000 a concert. The unusual success of the beautiful singer in opera and the culminating role with Geraldine Farrar whom she replaced at the "not" gave her tremendous publicity and there were many who wished to see her out of curiosity.

Jeritza met the test in concert as completely as she achieved her great triumphs over Farrar in opera. On her debut performance Mr. Kriebel, the late critic who was the first in point of service in New York, wrote:

"We cannot recall a similar scene in all the history of the Opera House."

which has witnessed many a great artistic triumph. It was not applause, it was an emotional tumult, a tempest."

Here are what the critics said of her concert:

Baltimore Sun—"Musical Baltimore was given a thrill at the Lyric last night that it will remember for years to come when the beautiful Maria Jeritza, the much discussed prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera made her initial appearance here, arousing a great audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm."

Washington Post—"Jeritza's program was admirable; she was in excellent voice; she was in most gracious mood and she proved to be a picture of loveliness as well as a singer of rare distinction and fine appreciation of dramatic values."

Pittsburgh Press—"Sweeping her audience before her, magnificent of voice, and glorious of face and figure, Maria Jeritza sang last night Syria, Mosque before one of the most brilliant assemblages of the season. Jeritza was in excellent voice. The singer presented a gloriously lovely figure as she entered sunnily attired, her radiant beauty winning her audience before she poured forth the exquisite golden tones that have marked her as one of the world's greatest sopranos."

Detroit Evening Times—"But of a certainty it seemed to me that Maria Jeritza, the victim of her beauty, the slave of her song, for an audience well over 4000 rolled tidal waves of applause across the platform's edge, and yet some critical aloofness must be maintained. So as not to be too easily won, she sang the most beautiful song in her repertoire, the 'Ave Maria' which she has faced a Detroit audience in the last dozen years, and one of the very finest."

Buffalo Express—"Jeritza proved to be all that was claimed or expected, and by her voice and art, her beauty and magnetism, raised the unbounded admiration of her great audience. She is a type of rare loveliness with her delicately chiseled features, her wealth of lustrous hair, and her exquisitely tinted skin and she possesses a charm of personality that could insure her success in any career. Her voice is a delight to the ear as to the ear and her instantaneous popularity with the public is easily understood."

Tulsa Daily—"It is not that Maria Jeritza is the most beautiful of women, not that she has the most wonderful voice, not that she is the most consummate of artists, but rather that in her are combined personal beauty of the highest order, a glorious voice, seemingly without limitations and an art that is perfect."

Boston Globe—"Jeritza sang an exacting program, to which several numbers had to be added in response to prolonged applause. Hundreds remained at the end of the concert to greet her again and again until the lights were turned down, as a hint that no more were to be expected."

BELATED AWARD

Heroism of Chief Gunner Bradley, U.S.N., during the landing of Uncle Sam's naval forces at Vera Cruz in 1914, went by virtually unnoticed for more than nine years. But recognition finally came the other day. Bradley was awarded the congressional medal of honor, the highest award his country can give.

Why 600,000 Americans now bathe internally

Nine out of 10 people are working at only half the efficiency they should enjoy—that's what science reveals.

Hundreds of recent tests have shown that 9 out of 10 men and women are suffering from constipation and "auto-intoxication"—they are carrying around inside them, at all times, large colonies of poisonous germs. Cathartics cannot remove this trouble. They bring at best only partial relief.

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell devoted years of his life to a study of "Auto-intoxication." More than 600,000 men and women have benefited by his research.

Dr. Tyrrell's method was the internal bath. And for its proper and easy administration he perfected what is known as the "I.R.L. Cascade." No other method and no cathartic can do the work for which the Cascade was specifically designed.

The story of Dr. Tyrrell's research and the "how and why" of internal bathing are extremely interesting. They have been put into a book entitled "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient." This book is free to anyone and is should be read by every man and woman. We will be glad to mail or give you a copy of this book on request. There is no obligation involved.

WEAK AND RUN-DOWN

After Serious Operation WINCARNIS Restores Her Strength

"Not long ago my daughter was obliged to undergo a serious operation which left her in a dreadfully weak and run-down condition. She had no appetite and was as white as a sheet. She really looked as if she had no blood left in her. She was also very nervous."

The doctor had given her some medicine to build her up but she did not seem able to get her strength back. In fact, her improvement was so slow that it had me mighty worried.

I heard about Wincarnis and got her a bottle. It worked wonders. She began to improve right from the start. It was simply wonderful how quickly she regained her strength and put on weight, and how the color came back to her cheeks."

John W. Bishop, Noted Contractor, Dead

WORCESTER, Oct. 22.—John W. Bishop, 77 years of age, president of the J. W. Bishop Co., building contractors, died today, in his home here. A native of White Sands, P.E.I., Mr. Bishop has been one of the big building contractors for almost half a century, and erected several palatial residences in Newport, R. I., and many government buildings. His wife died five days ago. He is survived by one son and two daughters. The funeral will be Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

Greece to Reestablish Martial Law

ATHENS, Oct. 22.—Col. Plasterias, virtual head of the Greek government, announces that martial law will be reestablished, the extent to which it is applied being left to the military authorities throughout the country. The announcement is contained in a proclamation to the army of the Peloponnese in which a reactionary movement on the part of two generals and some officers is condemned. The document asserts that the revolutionary government will use every means to maintain order.

RESTORATION OF SEIZED LIQUOR

November 5 is the date set for the hearing before the superior court on the question of restoring the $5000 worth of liquor seized in Buttram street about two weeks ago. The liquor is now stored in the cellar of the police station and the owner has petitioned for its restoration. When the case was tried in the local district court, George Manno of Common street claimed ownership and was fined $100 on a plea of guilty to illegal keeping.

Clogged-Up? Here's Quick Aid

NEVER mind what you are using now for constipation. For all you know there is a better remedy! The next time you are clogged up, try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative successfully used for 30 years, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Mrs. John A. Coates of Butteville, Ind., constipated all her life, her stomach injured from years of pill taking, is now functioning daily since taking Syrup Pepsin; and Mr. David O'Connor of Canton, Ohio, suffering steadily for three years, got relief after a few doses. The list of successful users of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is naturally large as over 10 million bottles are sold annually.

This Remedy Guaranteed
It has been accurately proven that a constipated person is only 75 per cent efficient. It slows you up; makes you dull and lazy. Take Syrup Pepsin the first day you do not have complete bowel movement. Take it, guaranteed, for constipation, torpid liver, dyspepsia, biliousness, sour stomach, headache, lack of appetite. A spoonful at the first sneeze or sniffle will kill a cold overnight. Half the ailments of winter start with constipation followed by a cold.

Formula on Every Package
Get yourself a bottle at a drug store, the cost being less than a cent a dose. Take a spoonful at bedtime for a few nights and we guarantee that the most chronic constipation will be relieved, or refund your money. A few doses in succession soon train the stomach muscles to act for themselves. Many, however, take it once

THOUSANDS IN PILGRIMAGE FROM FRENCH PARISHES TO MEMORIAL LOT IN CEMETERY

Ceremonies at St. Joseph's Church Precede Visit—C. M. A. C. Turns Out With Field Music and Band—Father Pratte Preaches Touching and Appropriate Sermon

Over 5000 people from the various French parishes throughout the city assisted at the solemn and imposing ceremonies attending the annual pilgrimage to the memorial lot in St. Joseph's cemetery yesterday, under the direction of the C.M.A.C.

At one o'clock, about 350 members of the C.M.A.C. with a string band with bugles, preceded by Regan's Military band, formed at the club house in Pawtucket street and proceeded to St. Joseph's church where a Libera was sung by a choir of the C.M.A.C. under the direction of Telephore Malo.

Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O.M.I., read the prayers for the dead. Miss Lena B. Camire presided at the organ. The ceremonies at the church were most impressive, the edifice being crowded to capacity and draped in mourning.

Present in the sanctuary were priests and pastors from all the local parishes and many out-of-town clergymen.

Following the ceremonies at the church the assembly marched to Kearney square, where special cars were boarded for St. Joseph's cemetery.

At three o'clock, at the memorial lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, Rev. Joseph Pratte, O.M.I., preached a touching and appropriate sermon, the main theme being the necessity of the offering of prayers for the relief of the souls in purgatory, whose only means of deliverance are the prayers offered by the church militant.

Rev. Fr. Pratte also congratulated the C.M.A.C. on its fine turnout.

Following the sermon the choir, under the direction of Telephore Malo, sang a Libera, while prayers for the dead were read by Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I. At the conclusion of the services, "Taps" were sounded by L. Lamoureux. A squad of former service men, all members of the C.M.A.C., fired a series of volleys as a salute to the deceased members of the C.M.A.C.

The line of march was again formed and the members of the C.M.A.C. preceded by the band and followed by the mass of mourners, marched to Gorham street, where special cars were in waiting to convey them to Kearney square.

Order of parade: Regan's Military band; American and French flags; string band with bugles; Second Field Marshal Joseph Simard; members of the C.M.A.C.

The committee in charge of the pilgrimage consisted of Romeo Lozeau, William Dumais, Harve Genest and Joseph Arbour.

ATTENDED REUNION

Among the young women from Emmanuel college, Boston, who attended the Notre Dame Alumnae reunion here on Saturday were the Misses Marie and Thelma McKenna and Alice Lennon, Lowell Notre Dame '23 girls.

Teeth Beauty

Adds a premier charm
It comes by combating film

You who love beauty should learn this way to prettier teeth, if you don't know it now. That is one great beauty item.

Millions now use this method. You see the results today wherever you look. Now see them on your own teeth. Make this delightful test.

Film mars beauty

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it now. Under old-way brushing, much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats. Teeth thus lose their beauty and luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Under old methods, those film-caused troubles became almost universal.

Then dental science found two ways to fight film. One disintegrates the film. The other removes it without harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Now careful people of some 50 nations employ it, largely by dental advice.

A constant fight

Then Pepsodent creates a constant fight on acids and starch deposits. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, also its starch digestant. Thus it gives manifold power to these great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

The result is a new dental era. Men, women and children, all the world over, are enjoying it today.

You'll be surprised

The results of Pepsodent will amaze and delight you. They are quick and apparent, and you will realize what they mean to you and yours.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

Do this in justice to yourself. Cut out the coupon now.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NEWS

Closing of Men's Mission at St. Columba's Church—

Other Churches

The men's mission in St. Columba's church—a success from every angle—was brought to a close yesterday afternoon with a sermon, the bestowal of the papal blessing and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The mission opened a week ago last Sunday night and was attended by hundreds of men in all walks of life, who assisted at the various exercises with gratifying zeal and devotion.

The Dominican fathers in charge of the services, Rev. Edmund Baxter, O.P., and Rev. Louis A. Farrell, O.P., were greatly pleased with the enthusiasm displayed by the parishioners, men and women, among whom they labored for the past two weeks. Morning and evening services witnessed capacity congregations.

Yesterday's closing exercises were conducted by Rev. Fr. Baxter, who gave the final instructions and bestowed the papal blessing. The pastor, Rev. John J. Powers, was the celebrant at benediction.

Next Sunday the feast of St. Vincent will be solemnly observed in the Immaculate Conception church. A solemn high mass in honor of the occasion will be celebrated at 11 o'clock while in the evening at 8:30 o'clock, an elaborate procession will be held.

The Third Order of St. Francis and the Junior branch of the Children of Mary received communion at the 8 o'clock mass yesterday morning. The high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. W. E. Doran, O.M.I. It was announced at all the masses that October devotion, in honor of the Virgin Mary, will be held every evening this week with the exception of Saturday.

In St. Patrick's church, October devotions will be held every evening at 7:30 o'clock. Holy hour services will be conducted Friday evening. The celebrants at yesterday's masses were Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L., Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., and Rev. Joseph A. Curran, in the Junior branch of the Children of Mary received communion at the 8 o'clock mass yesterday morning. The high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. W. E. Doran, O.M.I. It was announced at all the masses that October devotion, in honor of the Virgin Mary, will be held every evening this week with the exception of Saturday.

The Charity Guild of St. Michael's church will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. October devotions will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock while the rosary will be recited every morning at the 7 o'clock mass. Announcement was made at all the masses yesterday that the collection taken up at last Sunday's services for the benefit of the school fund, netted over $5000.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, a novena for the souls in Purgatory will be started in St. Margaret's church. Rosary of devotion will be in order every evening at 7:30 and will continue for a nine-day period, being brought to a close on All Souls day.

The Immaculate Conception sodality of St. Peter's church will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening. At the 7:30 o'clock mass yesterday, the members of the Married Ladies sodality received communion in a body.

In the Church of the Sacred Heart yesterday, it was announced that plans for the annual parish reunion will get under way immediately. The celebration will be held Nov. 21, 22 and 23. A joint meeting of the church sodalities was held last evening in the school hall to prepare and formulate the program.

The O.M.I. Cadets will meet in the school hall tomorrow and Thursday evenings of this week at 7:30 o'clock.

It was announced in all the French churches of the city yesterday that October devotions would be held during the week at the same hours at which they were held the previous week. It was also announced that the annual parish visit which is made by the priests in their parishes, would be continued this week and the successive week until all the French families in the various parishes had been visited.

Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I., celebrated the 9 o'clock mass at St. Joseph's church yesterday morning. Rev. Louis A. Nolin, O.M.I., preached a sermon on the subject, "The Catholic Church and Her Authority Throughout the Universe." Rev. Fr. Nolin pointed out the great need of Catholic authority throughout the world today, and with what reverence the world looked up to the word of the Catholic church. Rev. Fr. Nolin emphasized the fact that the sacraments, and the sacraments alone, could help and strengthen the faithful, that they might remain unshaken in their faith despite the everlasting persecutions which surround the Catholic church today.

Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I., also celebrated the high mass at 10:30 o'clock and Rev. Fr. Nolin preached the sermon.

Next Sunday, the members of St. Anne's sodality will receive communion in a body at the 7:30 o'clock mass.

The members of the Holy Family sodality received holy communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass at St. Ann's church yesterday morning.

Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I., celebrated the high mass at 11 o'clock. Sunday school session for the children of the public schools was held at 1 o'clock in the lower church. Because of the annual pilgrimage to St. Joseph's cemetery which was held yesterday afternoon, the Angel Guardian society held its meeting at 1 o'clock in the upper church. Instead of at 1:30 o'clock which is their regular meeting hour. In the evening, vesper services were held at 8:30 o'clock.

At all the masses in St. Jeanne d'Arc church yesterday, the following schedule of parish visits was made known: Rev. Leon Lamotte, O.M.I., Colonial avenue and Riverside street; Rev. Charles Denzil, O.M.I., D.D., Main street and East Main street; Rev. Aurel Neri, O.M.I., D.D., Main street and East Main street; Rev. Aurel Neri, O.M.I., D.D., Main street and East Main street.

Members of the Children of Mary and Angel Guardian sodalities will receive communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass next Sunday.

At the 8 o'clock mass in St. Louis church yesterday, members of the St. Anne sodality received communion. The regular meeting of the sodality was held yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

Members of the Notre Dame de Lourdes sodality received communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass in the church of that name yesterday. Vespers were held last evening.

Rev. Joseph Denis, O.M.I., celebrated the 7:30 o'clock mass in St. Marie's church in South Lowell yesterday. The younger girls of the parish received communion at this mass.

The new officers of the Woodbine Social club were installed yesterday afternoon. President Martin Brick called the meeting to order and then gave over the chair to William Lester, his successor. Others installed were Joseph Jodoin, vice president; George Sullivan, treasurer; John Scholes, financial secretary; and Joseph Curran, John Kane, Richard Worthing, Thomas Carden and Patrick Mullen, directors.

Following the installation, an entertainment was given by the following members of the club: Soles, Michael Sullivan, George Sullivan, Joseph Jodoin and James Buckley; quartet sections, A. Wyman, B. Mullen, Tom McQuade and Joe Curran; fancy dancing Patrick Mullen, Thomas Carden, Henry Booth and Christy Graham.

"Resolved—That sardines are more edible than pork pies" was the subject of a humorous debate between Andrew Foye, for the negative, and Richard Worthing, for the affirmative.

The meeting was brought to a close with a short address by President Lester and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

SEVERAL DEPARTMENTS OF AMOSKEAG REOPEN

(Special to The Sun)
MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 23.—Resumption in various parts of the cotton department of Amoskeag mills took place this morning. The carding and spinning departments of No. 1 mill, the carding, spinning and dressing departments of Stark mill and the warping department of No. 3 mill resumed operations.

It is said other departments will resume production within the next week and that the first of the month will see Amoskeag running at probably 90 per cent normal.

The employee representation plan, on the re-visit, went overwhelmingly, as desired by the company. This, coupled with the fact that Amoskeag is reported to have bought great stocks of cotton in the week just past, is held by operatives as the reason for resumption.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the St. Joseph's Railroad Corporation was held this morning at the Union National bank. The following board of directors was re-elected: Edward S. Barker, Arthur G. Pollard, Harry G. Pollard, Frederick A. Platter, John F. Sawyer and Arthur D. Prince. At the close of the stockholders' meeting, a meeting of the board of directors was held, at which the following officers were also re-elected: President, Arthur G. Pollard; treasurer, John F. Sawyer; clerk, Arthur F. Atwood.

OPERA HOUSE
Some one said that "a woman is only a woman, but a good girl is a smoke" and in the play, "The Lady of the Scarlet Poppy," at the Opera House, all this was shown in a most unusual situation of a bad woman cherishing but one ambition and that is to move in ultra social circles to be with celebrated actors and women of society and to experience such a thrill as they may in the novel atmosphere of virtue and decency. This woman is "Paulina Valastro" and her cry is, "I want to be a star!"

Want to see the kind of women that have spurned me grovel at my feet. And the only prop she has chosen will carry her up that ladder is the knowledge of a damnable skeleton dangling in the closet of a wealthy New York family. How the one ambition of her life is frustrated, is so clearly told in the play, "The Lady of the Scarlet Poppy" and you will agree with every one else who has already seen it that it is the prize play of the week.

The management wishes to announce that due to the fact that these week patrons are requested to be present at the rise of the curtain at 8:15 o'clock and 8:15 o'clock to obtain full enjoyment of the play.

ROYAL THEATRE
Earle Williams, known as the wearer of typically handsome clothes and the portrayal of a strictly gentleman, supplied those on Vinton's western lot by engaging in a free-for-all fight in a scene for "Fortune's Mask" which will show at the Royal theatre today and tomorrow.

Mr. Williams engaged in a frantic battle with a Central American commandant and gang of rascals, who take the part of the commandant, is a giant man and powerful. In the scene where Williams, as "Pickett," is engaged in a fist battle which resulted in several soldiers spending an uncomfortable night as the result of Mr. Williams' desperate efforts.

Williams had a particularly hard set-to with the gigantic Hardy, who, following the battle, was nursing a large laceration on his head. "Fortune's Mask" reveals Earle Williams not only in a particularly refreshing and compelling picture, but also as the athletic champion who held his physical prowess subdued, in keeping with the "gentleman" parts which as a rule has been his lot to play.

"Fifty Candles," the counter-attraction, is a story adapted from a serial which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, written by Earl Derr Biggers, an author noted for his genius in selling tales full of action. A short comedy and a news reel will round out a superb picture show.

CROWN THEATRE
"Vengeance of the Deep," the new picture of submarine thrills, at the Crown Monday and Tuesday introduces a remarkable new actor in William Anderson, a native of Rangoon Island in the South Seas. When Director A. B. Barringer found him he had never seen a picture camera, nor had he viewed a film. Critics are west for "bill" in the picture Anderson proved so extraordinary a performer that his part was allowed to grow larger and larger. In the end he work twice with that of any of the others in the cast. His dives to the bottom of the sea, without suit or helmet, and his moments of daring never before attempted on the screen.

BIG EARLY MORNING GAMBLING RAID

One of the biggest gambling raids in the city took place about 3 o'clock yesterday morning when Sergt. Winn and Officers Conney and Moore interrupted a game in a newly-organized Market district clubroom and arrested 23 men for being present where gaming implements were found. Admittance to the premises was gained through a window, a merry scuffle for exit ensuing with the sudden and surprising appearance of the officers of the law. A fight ensued with seven cartridges of ammunition found on a stairway leading to the street.

In single file formation the following men entered the district courtroom this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against them: Soterus Conus, Nick Peter, Demetrios Georges, Tom, Snaper, Kostas George, George, George, George, George, George, Charles Christo, William Buterakas, Nick Kaults, George Bass, George Cos-

DARING PILOT TO SEEK SKY'S ROOF

By N. E. A. Service
DAYTON, O., Oct. 22.—A shot at the moon!

Ten miles above the earth's surface—ten miles away from the world we know—where the temperature is terrifically low and the atmosphere so thin a human being cannot live without artificial aid!

This is the goal the United States army air service has its heart set on. Uncle Sam wants to determine the "absolute ceiling" for airplanes and one of his most distinguished flyers, the intrepid Lieut. John A. Macready, who set an official altitude record of 34,500 feet that stood two years, is going to try to find it.

The new official record is held by Sadi Lecointe, the Frenchman, who reached 35,100 feet last August, but Macready, famous also for his non-stop coast-to-coast flight with Lieutenant Kelly, has an unofficial record of 40,800 feet.

The ceiling may be lower than ten miles or it may be higher; at any rate, Macready is getting ready to shoot for it some time this fall at McCook field here and will use the same Le Pere plane he used before.

With this in view, Dr. Sanford A. Moss has perfected a new supercharger, or engine oxygen booster, which will make possible the attainment of higher altitude records than are at present known. In his last altitude Macready used a Moss charger, but the inventor says the new one, which was built by the General Electric Co., beats the other "eight different ways."

The supercharger is a small contrivance mounted just back of the propeller blade on the front end of the Liberty motor. It is operated from the red-hot exhaust from the motor and weighs about 140 pounds. At 35,000 feet it will increase the power of the Liberty motor by at least 250 horsepower.

Why all the anxiety and all the rivalry between different nations to reach the airplane ceiling?

For two reasons: In time of war the highest flying plane has had the advantage over the enemy, for the plane which can hover above the others generally is the victor. Being able to maneuver at will, it can keep out of the enemy's range and more easily direct fire at the pilot below.

In time of peace there is commercial aviation. Many flyers predict the day when globe-circling flights will be common, when there will be one-day service to Europe and coast-to-coast flights of a few hours. And when that day comes, they say, flying will be done in the rarified atmosphere high above the earth, where the air offers little resistance to meteoric speed.

Keep looking young by having the right complexion

The first signs of age are shown in the skin. Remember that a soft, smooth complexion is not to be had after the age of twenty without persistent effort.

As cleanliness is the basis of beauty, give yourself a beauty treatment with Resinol Soap tonight, and you will understand why thousands of women consider it the ideal cleanser. By power of the Resinol it contains, it protects the skin against germ development—the acknowledged primary cause of skin disorders.

"Simply perfection for any complexion"

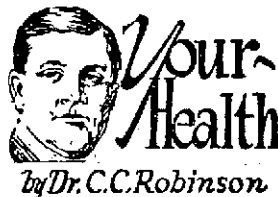

Resinol

When skin disorders are already present a few touches of Resinol Ointment usually clears them away and restores the natural glow of health.

DECORATIONS

Miss Evelyn Smalley, daughter of G. W. Smalley, New York, is credited with being the most decorated woman war veteran. She was two years under fire as a nurse. Her most recent honor was from the Legion of Honor.

HEALTH IN GOLF

No out-of-doors exercise, such as golf, tennis, cricket, rowing or riding, has ever killed anyone except through accident. I have been a golf player for the past 15 years and as a physician can testify to its great health-building qualities.

What a real surprise you would get if someone should say: "Don't go out and play golf. It may kill you." Yet we are continually hearing this advice, in one way and another, from those who should know better.

The death of A. P. Smith, secretary of Dover College, England, while playing golf, has been made the subject of much newspaper comment on both sides of the ocean. It is not right to exaggerate such events. It sears a lot of old fellows out of their only fun in life. Golf was leg men's exercise, but something else in body condition, that golf helps to overcome every day.

Mr. Smith was 65 years of age. The broadcaster at once gave out this query: "At what age should golfers quit the game?" John D. is almost 80 and still plays it. It might just as well be asked, at what age should we begin?

No definite information or statistics are available, on the age of golf in this country. The only statistics we have, is that thousands are actually benefited every day by this open-air exercise.

To say that arterio sclerosis (hardening of the arteries) has progressed so far, at 60, that golf club swinging is dangerous—is pure bunk.

The fact is, there is much co-ordination between mind and muscles in this wonderful game. The leg muscles are strengthened, also those of the abdomen, back and shoulders. The ankles, which often stiffen up a bit at 60—are kept free and supple by stretching and turning. While the strokes, hazards and distances keep the mind interested.

A new club has recently been formed in Chicago, limiting its membership to those over 60. Over 100 signed up the first week.

LONDON

BY MILTON BRONNER, N.E.A. Service Writer

LONDON, Oct. 22.—There is a restaurant here in which the set meal of the day is preceded by grace and closed with grace. It isn't under church auspices either.

It happens to be one of the quaintest eating houses of London. Its habitués and waiters have come down through the generations. For 200 years in this restaurant they have served at a low price a one o'clock lunch which is known as a "fish ordinary."

Even today with prices constantly going up, you get this lunch for about 30 cents; a thick, nourishing soup, boiled turbot with lobster sauce, fried sole (one of the kings of English fish) and then the May whitebait, beloved of Englishmen. Follows then a good old-fashioned heavy English boiled pudding and delicious cheese and biscuit.

The house has a chairman who presides at the head of the table. Ladies out the food, says the two graces and conducts a guessing contest on the height, girth and weight of the huge Stilton cheese from which slices are carved for the guests.

If anybody in the place guesses all three correctly, champagne is served free to the guests!

There is an air of cozy jollity about the whole thing that could be matched no place in the world. Which is why visitors make a bee-line for the place as soon as they hit little old London.

George Harvey, American ambassador to the court of St. James, is in serious danger of having a grandson-in-law. Dorothy Thompson, his little granddaughter, has been visiting him.

"Grandpa," she said the other day, "when I grow up I think I will marry an Englishman. They are nicer even than Americans."

"Is that so?" said Grandfather Harvey. "What kind of an Englishman will you marry?"

"A policeman. I love their nice blue bunnets with the chin-straps!"

A charming yarn has just come down here from the English-Scotch border line.

Queen Mary was visiting some aristocratic friends there. The hostess was very desirous that the queen should try some of the honey for which the country is celebrated. Accordingly one morning she set out for the little farm of an old woman who is famous for the product of her bees.

"I would like some of your splendid honey," said the noblewoman.

She got a negative shake of the head.

"But why not? It is for the queen herself!"

"Can't help it, ma'am. I haven't much and I've got to serve my regular customers."

Which reminds me of the experience of the king of Italy. He was on a hunting trip up in the Italian Alps.

He stopped at a little farmhouse and had a simple breakfast of coffee, bread and two boiled eggs. The price for the eggs was quite exorbitant.

"Are eggs so scarce up here?" demanded the king.

"No," snapped the Italian peasant woman, "but kings are."

TAKEN FROM LIFE

AUTO ACCIDENT IN NORTH BILLERICA

The state highway in North Billerica was the scene of an automobile collision Sunday night when Joseph Peterson of 160 Silver street, Boston, in a Chalmers car, while attempting to cut in on another auto, struck a Buick touring car driven by Vincent A. Finnigan of 220 Park street, Lawrence, a short distance north of Sprague's bridge. The only damage to the Chalmers was the loss of one wheel, but the Buick was so much smashed up that it had to be towed into Lowell to be repaired. At the time the accident occurred the Buick driven by Mr. Finnigan was traveling in the direction of Lowell, and the Chalmers full of people whom it is understood Peterson was hired to drive to Lowell, swung out of line and collided with him. The damaged car has been taken to Plumley's garage, to await a claimant. None of the people concerned in the accident was injured.

PAIR HELD FOR MURDER OF POLICE OFFICER, TWO HOLD-UPS AND THEFT OF AN AUTOMOBILE

Alleged Bandits Captured by Patrolman Charles Donnell, Single-Handed, in Norwood—Pair Admit Being in Murder Car—Seek Third Member

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Jeremiah J. Hogan of Cambridge and Henry T. Keefe of Somerville, were arraigned in the West Roxbury court today, charged with the murder of Patrolman Joseph E. Gonyea of the Hyde Park police station yesterday. They waived examination and were held without bail for the grand jury.

The patrolman was shot and killed when he tried to arrest a band of automobile thieves. The police are hunting for a third suspect.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—The murder of a police officer, two hold-ups and the theft of an automobile today are charged against Henry T. Keefe of Somerville and Jeremiah J. Hogan of Cambridge, who were captured by Patrolman Charles Donnell, single-handed in Norwood, yesterday.

According to the police, the two prisoners together with Joseph "Red" McCann of Cambridge, who is being sought throughout the district, culminated a night of banditry early Sunday morning by shooting Patrolman Joseph E. Gonyea to death in Needville, when he attempted to halt them, believing that their automobile was one reported stolen on Saturday. As the police played together the activities of the alleged bandit trio with the aid of identifications of the prisoners by two holdup victims, the three on Friday night stole an automobile belonging to Mrs. William Hurwitz of the Dorchester district and about midnight on Saturday, drove to a Somerville garage. It is charged that after getting gas-

STATE POLICE ARE CALLED IN TO INVESTIGATE DEATH OF BILLERICA WOMAN

State and Billerica police are investigating the death of Mrs. Jennie Polkonen, a young and attractive Finnish woman of North Billerica, which occurred last Friday morning at the Lowell General Hospital after a brief illness and which is alleged to have been caused by an illegal operation.

State Officer O'Neill was expected in Billerica this afternoon to confer with Chief Henry D. Livingston of the Billerica department and Assistant Medical Examiner Mason D. Bryant of Lowell. They will question the woman's husband, John Polkonen and her stepfather, Hyalmar Wickstrom, an operative at the Talbot mill in North Billerica.

Mrs. Polkonen had lived in North Billerica about one year, having come there from Maynard, where she was widely known as a court interpreter, doing a great deal of such work in Maynard and Fitchburg.

It is said that with her husband she visited a physician in a nearby city last Monday. On Thursday she was taken ill and a Billerica doctor was called. He ordered her taken to the Lowell General Hospital and immediately conferred with Chief Livingston. Upon her death early Friday morning and the signing of the death certificate by Dr. Bryant as "induced abortion," the Billerica chief placed the case before the district attorney. On Saturday, a conference took place at which were present Assistant District Attorney Gardner W. Pearson, Dr. Bryant and representatives of the Billerica and Lowell police departments.

The state police were called in on the case today and Officer O'Neill was assigned to go to Billerica to investigate. Mrs. Polkonen's body was sent to Maynard yesterday by Undertaker Geo. W. Henley for burial in that city.

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Lowell-Bound Freight Train Ran Over Switch at Medfield Junction

Two Engines Derailed and Topped Into Ditch—Eight Cars Smashed

MEDFIELD JUNCTION, Oct. 22.—W. L. Taylor, engineer, of Wickford, R. I., and H. E. Russell, brakeman, of Providence, were killed when two freight engines were derailed and toppled into the ditch 50 yards south of the Medfield Junction station on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad today.

G. Monelle, fireman, and H. A. Beaudri, brakeman, both of Providence, were cut and bruised but not seriously injured. A freight train bound from Providence for Lowell, heavily laden and with two locomotives, was approaching the station here with signals said to have been set against it and ran over a switch. Both engines went into the ditch and eight cars were smashed up and their contents strewn over the tracks. Taylor was buried in the wreckage and instantly killed. Russell was alive when rescued and died shortly afterward. Both tracks were blocked for several hours.

FOUR-CORNERED BATTLE IN WARD FOUR

The political pot will boil in ward 4 this year if nowhere else. Already that district has four representatives in the fight for ward councilor and the lists still are open. Newcomers today were William P. Shay, 21 Prospect street, and James McManus, 21 Irving street. It is now a four-cornered battle with Councilor Frederick A. Sadler and School Committeeman J. Eugene Mullin already chasing their brown devils around the ring.

A third candidate for the council from ward 4 appeared today in the person of John J. Connors, 2 Summer street.

The school committee fight, which will mean the election of two men or women for a three-year term, is as quiet as South Carleton on a Sunday morning. Only one candidate, Cornelius J. Sullivan, has taken out nomination papers.

Although registration sessions are held daily from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., the election commissioners have announced special sessions on Oct. 30 and 31 and Nov. 1, 2, 5 and 6, when new voters may register during the regular hours and between 7 and 9 p. m. as well.

Mr. Peter P. McMenamin informs The Sun that he will be a candidate for the council from Ward 9. When in the council before he was elected at large.

BABY TO BE GIVEN WINNER OF RACE

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—A dozen men and women will line up at a given point on 105th street today to begin a race to Bellevue hospital where six-months-old Jana Doe is apparently enjoying life in the founding ward.

The individual who travels the six odd miles to the hospital first will be Jana's foster father—or mother.

Jane, who seems perfectly happy right where she is, was found on Saturday by Martin Manning outside the door of his apartment. She was well dressed and fed, and everyone who saw her wanted her. So many applications arrived that officials could think of no other way of deciding the question than by putting to a test of speed.

At least one of the contestants will ride in a limousine. Others will try the subway, others the elevated railway.

A traffic jam may decide Jane's fate.

HIS FIRST MILLION

Stowaway Here Five Weeks

Sends Mother in Germany

His First Million—Marks

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Although he is but 15 years old and has been in the land of opportunity but five weeks, Walter Schultze today sent his mother at Emden, Germany, his first million—in marks.

Arraged as he slept fitfully on a chilly "L" station bench this morning he told the police he had arrived in Hoboken as a stowaway on the steamship Soladum, and had managed to run enough errands to provide food, though lodgings were out of the question. Of $1.50 he had earned, he sent $1.20—270,000,000 marks—to his destitute mother.

The police listened, sympathized, fed him and gave him $5, which he promptly returned with instructions to forward it to his mother. He wrote:

"Dear Mother: A man took me to the police station where they gave me some coffee—not a cup, but a whole can full. The police gave me $5 and I am sending it to you—1,300,000,000 marks. May God bless you."

Then he went to the children's society.

"HELP, QUICK," SAYS MESSAGE

Two Women and Infant From Pembroke, Maine, Aboard

Message Says Ship Pounding to Pieces in Heavy Seas—Passengers Taking to Boats

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—The United Fruit Co. steamer San Gil, reporting sinking southwest of Jamaica, is believed to have had on board nine passengers, including two women and an infant. Two others who sailed on the steamer from this port, were bound for Havana, and are supposed to have left the vessel there. She carried a crew of 51.

The addresses of the San Gil's passengers, furnished by the United Fruit Co., here are as follows:

Mrs. G. A. Gourley and infant, Pembroke, Me.

R. R. Gronblad, Boston.

C. W. Smith, Dorchester district, Boston.

Arthur A. McIntyre, Boston.

J. B. Fisher, Gloucester.

W. J. Fitzgerald, B. H. Brown and Miss Hilda Marine, all of Boston.

The two passengers who landed at Havana were Sidney A. Roundlet and Arthur Scheydecker, addresses unknown.

"Help, Quick," Said Message

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The steamer San Gil, out of Boston for Havana, Colon and Port Limon, reported by radio at 5.30 this morning, that she was sinking in heavy seas southwest of Jamaica. She gave her position as latitude 13.32, longitude 81.20 west.

The message, received by the Independent Wireless Telegraph Co. station at Easthampton, N. Y., said:

"Weather heavy—pounding to pieces—passengers taking to boats. Hurry help."

It then gave the position. The radio station immediately sent out the call "QRT" signalling all other stations to stop sending. Fifteen minutes later another call was received from the San Gil.

"Help, quick!" The message was broken off after the two words and no more was received.

BOB HART SCORES BIG HIT AS AN AFTER-DINNER SPEAKER AT AD CLUB SESSION

Lowell Man Who Officiated as Umpire in World Series Recounts Experiences—Indulges in Humorous Reminiscences That Go Over in Great Style—Tells of Series Plays

Bob Hart, world series umpire, was the principal speaker at the weekly noon luncheon of the Ad Club at Library hall today. Due to unforeseen circumstances Henry Sullivan, the famous swimmer, who was called suddenly to New York on a business trip, was unable to appear.

President Edward J. Conroy opened the meeting and turned the program over to ex-Mayor Perry D. Thompson, whom he announced as chairman for the day. Other speakers addressed the gathering on the Lowell Industries and the Boy Scout movement following Mr. Hart's remarks. Colonel W. G. Archer, who commanded American troops in Mesopotamia during the World war, was a guest at the dinner. He was introduced to the gathering. Colonel Archer is to speak before the Rotary club tomorrow on "Civilization and Sanitation."

Ex-Mayor Thompson Chairman

Former Mayor Thompson paid a genuine tribute to Mr. Hart in his introductory remarks. Referring to him as a local boy who had gone forth in the world and made a mark for himself and brought honors to his home city, Mr. Thompson said: "Bob could well be held up as a splendid example for the youths of our city to emulate. Big Demonstrations in Crefeld, Hueydt and Giadbach, But Authorities Retained Possession of All Public Buildings—Rhenish Republic Proclaimed at Gross-Gerau

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Further separatist efforts in the Rhineland today are reported to have failed, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin.

There were big demonstrations in the streets of Crefeld, Hueydt and Giadbach, but the authorities retained possession of all the public buildings. A Frankfurt message says the separatists proclaimed the Rhenish republic at Gross-Gerau, which is a separatist stronghold in the Hesse area.

The authorities at Juelich, 16 miles north of Aix-la-Chapelle, successfully resisted these demonstrations.

DEATHS

SWEETSHIRTS—Warren Prescott Sweetshirts, a lifelong resident of Westford, died at his home in that town yesterday, aged 63 years 2 months and 2 days. Mr. Sweetshirts was a well known resident, who had conducted a farm in that section for many years. He had a wide circle of friends throughout the town and in his death the village loses a well known resident and upright citizen. He had been ill for the past several months. He leaves his wife, Jessie Sweetshirts; three sons, Howard W., Waldo J. and Everett N. Sweetshirts; one daughter, Miss Hazel E. Sweetshirts; a brother, Judson T. Sweetshirts, and a sister, Rebecca E. Sweetshirts, all of Westford.

CONWAY—The older residents of the city will learn with regret of the death of Patrick Conway, which occurred early this morning at his late home, 19 Cedar street, after a lingering illness. Mr. Conway was a valued employee of the Boston & Maine railroad for a period of over 40 years and a lifelong resident of St. Peter's parish. The deceased was a member of the Holy Name society of St. Peter's. Besides his wife, Mrs. Ann Conway, he leaves to mourn his loss, one son, Daniel F. Conway, also several grandchildren. The body was removed to the funeral home of Undertakers John F. Rogers Co.

WILBUR—Clark J. Wilbur, aged 54 years 11 months and 2 days, died yesterday in this city. He leaves his wife, Emma E. Wilbur; three children, Roy O., Mrs. Raymond Stanton and Earl R. Wilbur, all of Lowell; his mother, Mrs. Saphronia Turner of Chateaugay, N. Y., and two sisters, Mrs. Alonzo Green of Chateaugay, N. Y., and Mrs. Wentworth Wilbur of Syracuse, N. Y. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker George W. Healey, 236 Westford street.

BAILEY—Ernest E. Bailey, son of Constantine J. and the late James E. Bailey of this city, died suddenly yesterday at his home in New York city, at the age of 45 years and 11 months. Mr. Bailey was born in this city and resided here until he was living at 24 Pay street until about six years ago, when he moved to New York city. He is survived by his mother, one sister, Mrs. Edith C. Bailey, formerly of Boston, and one brother, James E. Bailey, all of this city. He was affiliated with Lowell council 8, Royal Arcanum. The body will be removed to Saunders' funeral home, 217 Appleton street, this city.

SWEATT—Albion Sweatt died at his home, 62 Eighteenth street, last evening at the age of 72 years. He leaves his wife, Clara P. Sweatt; one daughter, Miss Sadie M. Sweatt; two sons, Herbert A. Sweatt of Lowell and Walter T. Sweatt of New York city; two brothers, Clarence Sweatt of Detroit and Edward E. Sweatt of this city; one sister, Mrs. Samuel A. Richardson of Lowell, N. H., and one grand-daughter, Helen E. Sweatt. He was a charter member of the Central-ville lodge, I.O.O.F., and had been a resident of Lowell for the past 57 years.

MCANN—Mrs. Mary (Britton) McAnn, a former well known parish, died Saturday evening at the Lynn hospital, Lynn, after a brief illness. She leaves her husband, Eugene McAnn; her parents, John and Catherine (Hendy) Britton; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret McCarthy, Mrs. James Justin and Miss Ethel Britton, and four brothers, Pious, William, Fred and Everett Britton. The body was removed to the home of her parents, 475 Lundberg street, by Undertakers O'Connell & Fay.

FERRIN—John E. Ferrin, Jr., son of John E. and Nora (McDermott) Ferrin, and a popular student of the Holy school, died this noon at the home of his parents, 151 Princeton street, after a brief illness, aged 10 years. Besides his parents he leaves four sisters, Winifred, Madeline, Loretta and Mary Bernice.

CONKLIN—Charles Waite Conklin, formerly of Lowell, died Saturday at the Salem hospital. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annette (Pearson) Conklin, and one daughter, Annette. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4:30 from his late residence at Beach bluff.

LECLAIRE—George Ernest Leclaire, son of Reside and Emma (Couture) Leclaire, died yesterday at the home of his parents, 508 Madison street, aged 6 months and 10 days.

MAHON—Yvonne Marion, only child of Oville and Alexina (Carpenter) Mahon, died this morning at the home of her parents, 550 Suffolk street, aged 6 years, 11 months and 18 days.

Membership in C. Y. M. L.

Plan Out-of-Door Gymnasium on North Common in Honor of Sullivan

Yesterday afternoon, in the rooms of the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum in Suffolk street, a real, homelike reception was tendered Lowell's internationally famous channel conqueror, Henry Sullivan. Although feted and banqueted in leading cities and towns in England and France, and later welcomed home by an entire city, the celebrated swimmer was never more enthusiastically received than he was yesterday by the members of the organization under whose colors he overcame the treacherous and uncertain tides of the channel. As a token of their sincere appreciation for his interest in the Lyceum, the members yesterday presented their distinguished brother a gold-engraved tablet entitling him to life membership, together with an expensive cigar-holder. The presentations were made by Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, spiritual director of the C.Y.M.L.

JOHN J. MAHONEY,

Among the invited guests present at the exercises were Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L., pastor of St. Patrick's church, Rev. James A. Supple, D.D., of St. Patrick's; Rev. James F. Lynch and Rev. Thomas J. Heagney of St. Michael's; Mayor Donovan, Mr. Thos. P. Sullivan, father of the swimmer; John J. Conlon, his trainer, and Capt. N. Leslie Smith of Winthrop, his pilot. The meeting was called to order shortly before 8 o'clock by President John J. Mahoney, who introduced Charles Miner as the first entertainer on the extensive program. Mr. Miner obliged with a piano selection, "Sweet Adeline," the entire assembly joining in the chorus. Raymond O'Brien then rendered "Midnight Rose."

The first speaker of the day was

TIMOTHY P. ROHAN,
Committee Chairman.

Rev. Dr. McGarry. "This is a wonderful occasion for the C.Y.M.L.," he said. "The plaudits of a few days ago are still ringing in our ears, plaudits for a great feat and the man who did it. And so I wish to compliment the members for the wonderful reception and the vast amount of work it entailed. To have brought it to so successful a conclusion is one of the many glories of the C.Y.M.L. Henry Sullivan comes to us as a fellow-citizen. We think and struggle as he. We know that he has certainly put the C.Y.M.L. on the map and no one will forget the four magic letters."

"Henry still clung to the Lyceum when he might have allied himself to some larger and more prominent organization. But that's Henry all over. His modesty is recognized by all, and this virtue is one of the marks, according to Kipling, of a real man. I only hope now that the suggestion I made in the Auditorium last Tuesday night concerning the erection of a memorial in one of our parks or commons will soon bear fruit. I mention the North common as a possible site for an enduring memorial because it is now the largest of a few days ago. A wonderful development in the city's park improvements and would also open a pathway of activity in athletic matters. I'm heart and soul with the

TOBOGGAN SLIDE

In anticipation of the winter season Supt. John W. Kernan of the park department soon will have a conference with officials of the Electric Light Co. relative to a rearrangement of wires and arc lights at Fort Hill to afford better illumination for the toboggan slide to be erected there by the department. The slide will be built in approximately the same location as last year and the need of better lighting is imperative.

NEW AUTOMOBILE FOR
POLICE DEPARTMENT

The police department has made requisition upon the mayor for a new touring car to be added to its equipment and will be advertised for bid tomorrow along with the new coupe for the street department.

The police requisition, approved by Mayor John J. Donovan, was received by Purchasing Agent Edward Donnelly this noon. It specifies a seven-passenger touring model of six cylinders, not to exceed in cost $1550, plus a Model K 40 Buick, now in use to be figured in exchange.

The coupe for the street department will be a six-cylinder car, not to exceed in cost $1100.

The purchasing agent today opened the following bids for the Chelmsford street hospital:

1000 pounds gluten: Edward J. Foye, $25.50; W. M. Wilbur, $25.50 per ton; James Palm and Son, $21; Charles Day, $27.50.

1000 pounds cornmeal: Foye, $23; Wilbur, $18 per ton; Palm, $24; Day, $23.50.

1000 pounds mixed feed: Foye, $38; Wilbur, $33.90; Palm, $38; Day, $40.

WILL GIVE MUSICAL
PROGRAM IN BOSTON

The Lowell High School Military band, John J. Gblin, instructor, will give a musical program on Friday at the Tremont theatre in Boston as part of the afternoon program of the 68th annual meeting of the Middlesex County Teachers' association. It is a high honor that has been conferred upon the local musical organization and a tribute to its rapid advancement this year under the direction of Mr. Gblin.

In order to allow Lowell teachers to attend the convention the public schools will remain closed on Friday.

The convention will be subdivided into three divisions, intermediate, kindergarten and primary and high school to be held in Tremont Temple, Tremont theatre, Lorimer hall, Ford hall and Gardner hall at the state house.

Lyceum In everything it attempts and the sky is the limit."

At the conclusion of the pastor's address, President Mahoney announced that the board of directors of the Lyceum were about to petition the park commission for the erection of the contemplated memorial. He then presented Frank Hession in a solo number, "Midnight Rose," and Victor Bernadini in a series of accordion selections.

Rev. Fr. Lynch was the second speaker. He said he was present, with Fr. Heagney, as a representative of St. Michael's church, pastor of St. Michael's church, which Sullivan attends. He added that St. Michael's parish feels proud of her famous son for his wonderful accomplishment and agreed with Dr. McGarry that something should be done to perpetuate the great deed in order, he said, that the name of Henry F. Sullivan should go down in history as a tribute to genuine grit and determination.

"When Will the Sun Shine For Me" was John Quinn's contribution to the entertainment following Fr. Lynch's remarks. Rev. Dr. Supple was then introduced and pleaded for a continuation of the faith displayed in old St. Patrick's by pioneer parishioners. He related the story of an aged woman who came to him in the rectory a few days ago and said that the only two affairs that could fill the Memorial Auditorium were those of John McCormack and St. Patrick's parish. Like the preceding speakers, he congratulated Sullivan on his achievement.

The pleasing insertion of entertainment numbers was again in evidence here with the rendition of "Maggie" by Charles Irving, just before Capt. Smith was presented. The pilot was accorded three ringing cheers and a tiger as he arose. He began by telling of his reading a recent newspaper account of a boat in the English channel trying vainly to land during a storm. Unsuccessful attempts were made, he said, at Calais, Dover and Folkestone, and the Americans on that boat can really appreciate the task Henry had in completing the trip in which I can truly state he "blew a great many bubbles."

Two delightful Irish solos were sung by J. P. Whelan previous to the introduction of Fr. McDonough. The popular spiritual director spoke of the possibility of an outdoor gymnasium and running track on the North common where other young men might be trained to emulate the feat of Henry, whom he declared to be a credit and an inspiration to the organization. He then presented the cigar-holder and the life-membership card.

In accepting the gifts, the guest of honor said he appreciated the C.Y.M.L. reception more than anything else and thanked the members for the confidence they had vested in him. "I'm just the first tank to swim the 'dinky little ditch,'" he said, "while most other Americans, according to the English, come over to cross the bar." After paying tribute to Messrs. Conlon and Smith for their wonderful assistance in the struggle, Henry recounted his channel swim, which is now familiar to everyone. He concluded by presenting to the Lyceum a framed series of photographs depicting his 27-hour swim. The gift was accepted by President Mahoney on behalf of the members and will repose in a conspicuous place in the rooms.

Other speakers were His Honor, the Mayor, and James J. Bruin, who was chairman of the Auditorium reception. Both extended their congratulations to the swimmer and wished him many future successes. Among the other entertainers were John Kennedy and Thomas Carter, in a harmonica duet, and Frank Walter and John Brophy, in solo selections.

A buffet luncheon was served. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Timothy J. Rohan, chairman; John J. Mahoney, James P. Saunders, Frank O'Neil, John McGinness, Patrick McGarrett and James P. Whelan.

Steger of Michigan Is
All-America Prospect.

By N.E.A. Service

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 22.—In Herbert Steger, sensational university of Michigan halfback, followers of the Maize and Blue football eleven see another candidate for All-American honors.

Steger, today, ranks as one of the best gridirers Yost has had in seasons. Capt. Harry Kipke not excepted. Fleet of foot, a good forward passer, splendid punter, and an expert field goal kicker, the former Oak park lad is a triple treat artist de luxe. There is no getting away from that. He also is as good a bet as the Wolverines' best on the receiving end of a pass, having the uncanny ability to grab an out of the air on almost impossible chances.

This is Steger's second year on the Yost machine. In 1922 he was handicapped by illness, and only got into the game in a substitute's role. But even so he lived up to the reputation he established in his high school days.

In the games that Michigan has played this season, Steger has been one of the outstanding stars. Thus far he has even outshone the great Kipke. And that in itself is something. For the Wolverine leader is generally conceded to be one of the best footballers in the country.

Next season will be Steger's last for Michigan. Already he is being groomed to take Kipke's place. And with another year's experience he should come pretty close to equalling Harry's three-year record.

Steger may not be able to win an All-America berth this fall though if he keeps up his early season performance he should come very near turning the trick. But with another campaign behind him he will loom as an added certainty on the mythical aggregation.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents
B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Sager Midgley, ably assisted by Adele Jason, will lead the present week's show at the B. F. Keith theatre, with their inimitable mixture of joy and song called "Hello, Wife." Midgley's name is very well known in entertainment circles, for his work as a light comedian. The act ought to score heavily. Mardo & Rome will give "A Collision of Fun," an act which is a riot and which concerns descriptions of automobiles. It is given in the wop dialect. Fleurette Jeoffrie, the chic French singer, who will also appear on the bill, possesses temperament and a voice of sweetness and power. She is almost alone among the big singers of vaudeville. Fox McLeod, champion roper of the world, will demonstrate just how he does his marvelous work, and Al-bright & Harte will give a touch of the white lights on Broadway, with their singing and fun. Then there are Ford & Price, marvels of the silver wire, who will dance in mid-air. The week's picture is "Loyal Lives."

MERRIMACK SQUARE

A picture story with a happy ending for Pola Negri. That is something which the admirers of this celebrated screen star will see in "The Cheat," her latest Paramount picture produced by George Fitzmaurice, which is now on view at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. The story, written by Hector Turnbull, is said to provide Miss Negri with one of the most delightful roles she has ever played.

The story of "The Cheat" deals with a wealthy girl of Latin-American parentage who, to avoid being married by her father, elopes with a young American. In Paris she is loved by an art swindler, disguised as an East Indian prince who follows her to New York. The girl is disinherited by her father, and unused to poverty she accepts the supposed Hindu's offer of money with which to gamble. At first she wins, then loses not only her own money but a charity fund entrusted to her. Panic-stricken, she borrows from the "prince" and promises to dine with him alone in return for the loan.

From this point on, the action is rapid and moves swiftly to one of the most climaxes ever seen on the screen. The ending is happy. The part of the husband is played by Jack Holt, popular Paramount star, while the role of mourns deliciously as fox-trotted by the California Ramblers. And how beautifully Dolly Kay can sing it!

Rialto theatre today, and it depicts the madcap adventures of a brightly young miss, who breaks away from her wedding ceremony, leaving a million-dollar bridegroom hat and speechless. She is chased by mamma, friends, ushers, clergyman and relatives of the million-dollar fish, but outside the church she meets a hundred-dollar jazz king and orchestra leader in his roadster. He helps her to escape from the clutches of a life of luxury. The jazz king, played by Bryant Washburn, is no inconsiderable party himself, and makes a lot of unwilling people dance to his tune. Even the little runaway bride cannot bluff him, although he has his troubles with her.

The added feature, presents William Bill Fairbanks in "A Broadway as a dissipated young easterner whose father, becoming disgusted at his son's wildness, ships him off to a western ranch, where after many real hard knocks, he shows that he is not the jellyfish, that he appeared. Of course, there's a right smart pretty romance

that runs through the story.

Chelmsford Honors Memory of Sons Who Made Supreme Sacrifice in the World War

GRANITE SHAFT IS DEDICATED

Gold Star Mothers, Clergy Town Officials and School Children There

Colonel Stevens and Rev. James P. Sherry Give Stirring Addresses

In loving tribute to the memory of the brave youths of Chelmsford who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War, an imposing granite monument on the common in North Chelmsford was dedicated yesterday.

Gold star mothers, representatives of the clergy and the town officials participated in the dedicatory exercises which were conducted under plans arranged by three legionnaires, Commander John H. Valentine of Chelmsford, post, Mayor John J. Donovan of Lowell, and Mrs. Elizabeth Miner, auxiliary, president.

The invocation was offered by Rev. Francis P. Kenney, pastor of St. John's church. As "taps" was sounded the monument was unveiled by Mrs. John Vinal, Mrs. James Tully and Mrs. John J. Quigley. The presentation speech was made by John J. Monahan and the response of acceptance was delivered by Chairman George Rigby of the board of selectmen.

The boys whose memory was honored by the dedication of the monument were Wagoner Alberton W. Vinal, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vinal, 101st Engineer train, 26th division, who was killed in action at Boue, France, June 15, 1918; Lieut. Robert F. Tully, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tully, Co. C, 4th Infantry, 4th division, killed in action at Brevinches, France, Aug. 19, 1918; Corp. George R. Quessy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Quessy, Battery F, 102nd F. A., 26th division, killed in action at Glovaux, France, Nov. 1, 1918.

A reading, "In Flanders Field," by Miss Mildred Hoar followed. High and grammar school pupils sang "Native Land" and "Tribute to the Soldiers" under the direction of Miss "Miss" Bourne, music supervisor of the Chelmsford schools.

Col. Charles A. Stevens of Lowell was one of the principal speakers. Col. Stevens said in part:

"We have assembled with a noble purpose, to honor and revere the memory of three Chelmsford boys who gave their lives in battle. There is no greater glory. It is fitting indeed that the citizens of Chelmsford should erect a monument bearing the names of these boys. These names will be looked upon with respect by present and future citizens of the town. The boys were known by their comrades as ordinary mortals and human beings. Their names have now become immortalized and children from this town will in future look upon them as saviors of their country. Their individual acts did not win the war and their death was only to be included among the countless of thousands which occurred during the struggle. Yet the deaths of Vinal, Tully and Quessy will serve as an example to the young men of this country. So long as Chelmsford can produce young men of that character, so long will the statue and nation be ready to protect and give happiness, for by such deeds as these young men performed shall we know them."

Rev. James P. Sherry of St. Anthony's church, Chelmsford, who served as chaplain with the 102nd infantry, Y.D., delivered a stirring oration and ended by quoting the inscription appearing at the base of the monument:

"The tumult and the shouting dies, The captains and the kings depart; Lord, God of Hosts, be with us yet; Lest we forget, lest we forget!"

Reverence was pronounced by Rev. Charles H. Ellis of Chelmsford center and the program concluded with the playing of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "The Star Spangled Banner" by the Chelmsford Brass band.

The monument was erected by a vote of the citizens of the town, the details being attended to by a citizens' committee composed of Rev. E. Ambrose Jenkins, John J. Monahan, Mark Ingraham, John J. Garvey and William Carl.

John Pinardi of the Lowell Monument Co. designed the monument which was carved in his shops in Gorham street. Mr. Pinardi personally supervised the erection of the work, which is a fine example of his art and craftsmanship.

The monument is of blue white granite from Westerly, R. I. The base is six feet square and stands sixteen feet high with life size heroic figure of a soldier atop Gothic pedestal.

WM. M. WOOD SETS NEW DATE FOR OUTING

The outing for members of the Boston Woolen trade which was to have been given last Saturday at Shawheen Village by President William M. Wood of the American Woolen Company was, at the last minute, postponed until next Saturday.

It had been the intention of the company to act as host to upward of 500 members of the Boston trade, so that they might have an opportunity to inspect the newly organized community and also the Shawheen mill.

Coming from eight different states the agents, cashiers and paymasters of the 63 mills of the American Woolen Co. christened in a manner, the company's new administration building by conducting a meeting within its portals Thursday. It was the first time that the building had been used for any company purpose.

The deliberations were presided over by Mr. Wood. At the conclusion of the meeting it was said that there was no statement to be made public as to what had occurred at the meeting, since the gathering was the same as those held periodically with the chief executive of the company.

oline they held up Charles Nelson, a negro attendant, taking $8 from him and a short time later in Dorchester forced David Davidson to take a ride with them while they relieved him of $70 and valuable jewelry.

The police believe that the two then drove to Readville, where Officer Gonyea recognized their machine's numbers as those of the stolen car, and commanding an automobile, pursued them and forced them to stop. As he advanced with drawn revolver into the glare of the fugitive car's lights he was shot down, three bullets wounding him fatally. The policeman returned the fire but the car sped on past his prostrate body. The stolen car was later found abandoned and near it a bullet pierced raincoat which led the police to believe that the third hand had been wounded.

The capture of the two men was dramatically engineered by Officer Donnell in Norwood, who saw the two men walking through the marshes. One of them attempted to draw a revolver, but Donnell's draw was quicker, and he ordered both men at gun point to the station. Under grilling both confessed that they were in the automobile from which the shots were fired that killed Patrolman Gonyea.

High commendation has been received by Patrolman Donnell for his daring capture of the two men. The Norwood police were notified at 3.30 a. m. to watch for three men in a touring car who shot down Patrolman Gonyea two hours before, and night officers were scouring all roads leading into town.

At 6 a. m. Patrolman Donnell took an automobile and went down the boulevard to continue his search. At a point known as Upham road he came upon two men with disheveled clothing walking toward Dedham. They answered the description of two of the three men in the murder gang. Without asking questions he stopped his automobile and covered them with his revolver.

He ordered them into the front seat of his car and while he covered them with his revolver with one hand, with the other he drove the three miles to the Norwood police station.

On arriving at the station Patrolman Donnell questioned his prisoners and started searching them. There were no other officers in the station at the time. As he approached the latter attempted to pull a pistol on him from his hip pocket. Donnell, an amateur wrestler of ability, grabbed his hand, secured the revolver and with a quick grip sent him sprawling on the floor of the station. Keefe came to the assistance of his accomplice and was given the same treatment.

Keeping his two prisoners covered, Donnell called for the firemen on duty at the firehouse, located in another section of the building. With the assistance of six firemen who responded, Donnell then resumed the search of his prisoners.

Donnell is known in Lowell, where he has appeared in wrestling bouts.

THE JERITZA RECITAL

Lowell Recital One of Four Before Opening of Metropolitan Opera Season

The Lowell recital of Jeritza on Wednesday evening will be one of four that the world famous prima donna and beauty will give before she opens the Metropolitan opera season with "Thais." Last spring following the close of the opera season she went on a concert tour of 15 large cities and the tour made history. In every one of them the Jeritza recital was a complete triumph. Packed houses everywhere made the 15 engagements not an average of $7000 a concert. The unusual success of the beautiful singer in opera and the continuing glow with Geraldine Farrar whom she replaced at the "Met" gave her tremendous publicity and there were many who wished to see her out of curiosity.

Jeritza met the test in concert as completely as she has in opera. On her debut performance Mr. Krenbiel, the late critic who was the oldest in point of service in New York, wrote:

"We cannot recall a similar scene in all the history of the Opera House."

which has witnessed many a great artistic triumph, it was not applause, it was an emotional tumult, a tempest."

Here are what the critics said of her concert:

Baltimore Sun:—"Musical Baltimore was given a thrill at the Lyric last night that it will remember for years to come when the beautiful Maria Jeritza, the much discussed prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera made her initial appearance here, arousing a great audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm."

Washington Post—Jeritza's program was admirable; she was in excellent voice, and she sang in most graceful mood and she proved to be a picture of loveliness as well as a singer of rare discretion and fine appreciation of dramatic values."

Pittsburgh Press—"Sweeping her audience before her, magnificent of voice, and glories of face and figure, Maria Jeritza sang last night. Syria, before one of the most brilliant assemblages of the season. Jeritza was in excellent voice. The singer presented a gloriously lovely figure as she entered stately and dignified, her radiant beauty winning her audience before she poured forth the exquisite golden tones that have marked her as one of the world's greatest sopranos."

Detroit Evening Times—"But of a certainty it seems to me that I was not alone the victim of her beauty, the slave of her song, for an audience well over 1000 called this season of applause across the platform's edge, and yet some critical aloofness must be maintained. So as cold bloodedly as possible let me record my opinion that Maria Jeritza is the most beautiful singer who has faced a Detroit audience in the last dozen years, and one of the very finest."

Buffalo Express—"Jeritza proved to be all that was claimed or expected, and by her voice and art, her beauty and magnetism, gained the unbounded admiration of her great audience. She is a type of rare loveliness with her delicately chiseled features, her wealth of flaxen hair, and her exquisitely turned nose and she possesses a charm of personality that would insure her with success with far less vocal endowment than is hers. She is as constant a delight to the eye as to the ear and her instantaneous popularity with the public is easily understood."

Trade Advertiser—"It is not that Maria Jeritza is the most beautiful of women, not that she has the most wonderful voice on concert or operatic stage or yet that she is the most consummate of artists, but rather that in her are combined personal beauty of the highest order, clearness of vision, purity without limitations and an art that is perfect."

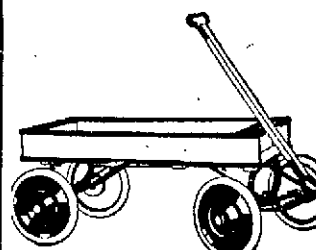

Boston Globe—"Jeritza sang an exacting program, to which several numbers had to be added in response to prolonged applause. Hundreds remained at the end of the concert to greet her again and again until the lights were turned down as a hint that no more were to be expected."

92 Years a Hardware Store

Why 600,000 Americans now bathe internally

Nine out of 10 people are working at only half the efficiency they should enjoy—that's what science reveals.

Hundreds of recent tests have shown that 9 out of 10 men and women are suffering from constipation and "auto-intoxication"—they are carrying around inside them, at all times, large colonies of poisonous germs. Cathartics cannot remove this trouble. They bring at best only partial relief.

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell devoted years of his life to a study of "Auto-intoxication." More than 600,000 men and women have benefited by his research.

Dr. Tyrrell's method was the internal bath. And for its proper and easy administration he perfected what is known as the "J.R.L. Casende." No other method and no cathartic can do the work for which the Casende was scientifically designed.

The story of Dr. Tyrrell's research and the "how and why" of internal bathing are extremely interesting. They have been put into a book entitled "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per. Cent. Efficient." This book is free to anyone and is should be read by every man and woman. We will be glad to mail or give you a copy of this book on request. There is no obligation involved.

REPUBLICAN PROGRESSIVES OF WEST WHO WILL HOLD BALANCE OF POWER IN NEW CONGRESS MAKE PLANS

Mapping Out Program Both as to Legislation and the Organization of House and Senate—Enactment of Soldiers' Bonus Bill Freely Predicted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Republican progressives of the west, who will hold the balance of power in the new congress, are mapping out a program both as to legislation and the organization of the house and senate and are preparing to enforce their demands by every available means. Because of the rather unusual situation this will develop and the fact that the 1924 national political campaign is in the offing, leaders of the two dominant parties in congress look for the enactment of little affirmative legislation at the session beginning December 3. Adjournment probably will be taken late in May for the national political conventions and much of the time to that date will be taken up with the framing and passing of the annual appropriation bills. Enactment of a soldiers' bonus bill is freely predicted, but beyond that leaders are not inclined to commit themselves. Efforts will be made to put through some kind of railroad legislation, but there are so many conflicting views on this subject that the task of harmonizing them into a concrete measure, is regarded as extremely difficult. Much of the same situation is expected to develop in respect to coal legislation.

Tax and tariff revision are looked upon as only a remote possibility. Practical politicians in congress do not hesitate to say that these are dangerous subjects to handle during a national political year and consequently they do not look with favor upon any plan to open up these laws to amendment.

But there is another and equally cogent reason—if they should be opened to amendment the progressives might force a complete rewriting at least of the tax law.

A modified excess profits tax, a levy on the undivided profits of corporations and other major changes in the existing law, are being considered by the progressives and they probably will be proposed in bills to be introduced soon after congress meets. Leaders of the republican organization look upon these with disfavor, certainly at this time, contending that they would serve to disturb the economic equilibrium and possibly affect seriously federal government finances.

Sponsors of the tariff law take the position that this statute is working out even more satisfactorily than had been anticipated, particularly from a standpoint of the public treasury and that there is no insistent demand for its amendment. They say that any inequalities that may be found to exist, can be corrected by the president working through the tariff commission.

Generally speaking, the passage of a bonus bill is viewed at the capitol as a certainty. President Coolidge's position with respect to this legislation has not been defined, but proponents believe they will have enough votes to override a veto should the executive adhere to the policy of the late President Harding that the measure either should carry the means of financing or be postponed.

WEAK AND RUN-DOWN

After Serious Operation
WINCARNIS
Restores Her Strength

"Not long ago my daughter was obliged to undergo a serious operation which left her in a dreadfully weak and run-down condition. She had no appetite and was as white as a sheet. She really looked as if she had no blood left in her. She was also very nervous.

The doctor had given her some medicine to build her up but she did not seem able to get her strength back. In fact, her improvement was so slow that it had me mighty worried.

I heard about Wincarnis and got her a bottle. It worked wonders. She began to improve right from the start. It was simply wonderful how quickly she regained her strength and put on weight, and how the color came back to her cheeks."

John W. Bishop, Noted Contractor, Dead

WORCESTER, Oct. 22.—John W. Bishop, 77 years of age, president of the J. W. Bishop Co., building contractors, died today, in his home here. A native of White Sands, P.E.I., Mr. Bishop has been one of the big building contractors for almost half a century, and erected several palatial residences in Newport, R. I., and many government buildings. His wife died five days ago. He is survived by one son and two daughters. The funeral will be Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

Greece to Reestablish Martial Law

ATHENS, Oct. 22.—Col. Plastiras, virtual head of the Greek government, announces that martial law will be reestablished, the extent to which it is applied being left to the military authorities throughout the country. The announcement is contained in a proclamation to the army of the Peloponnese in which a reactionary movement on the part of two generals and some officers is condemned. The document asserts that the revolutionary government will use every means to maintain order.

RESTORATION OF SEIZED LIQUOR

November 5 is the date set for the hearing before the superior court on the question of restoring the $8000 worth of liquor seized in Buttram street about two weeks ago. The liquor is now stored in the cellar of the police station and the owner has petitioned for its restoration. When the case was tried in the local district court, George Magnus of Common street claimed ownership and was fined $100 on a plea of guilty to illegal keeping.

Clogged-Up? Here's Quick Aid

NEVER mind what you are using now for constipation. For all you know there is a better remedy! The next time you are clogged up try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative successfully used for 30 years, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. Mrs. John A. Gains of Buttersville, Ind., constipated all her life, her stomach injured from years of pill taking, is now functioning daily since taking Syrup Pepsin; and Mr. David O'Connor of Canton, Ohio, suffering steadily for three years, got relief after a few doses. The list of successful users of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is naturally large as over 10 million bottles are sold annually.

Formula on Every Package

Get yourself a bottle at a drug store, the cost being less than a cent a dose. Take a spoonful at bedtime for a few nights and a week and in that way keep the bowels regularly open. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, unlike harsh physics such as calomel, "candy cathartics," salt waters and powders, is a simple vegetable laxative composed of Egyptian senna and pepsin with tasty aromatics which are entirely harmless.

This Remedy Guaranteed

It has been accurately proven that a constipated person is only 75 per cent efficient. It slows you up; makes you dull and lazy. Take Syrup Pepsin the first day you do not have complete bowel movement. Take it, guaranteed, for constipation, torpid liver, dyspepsia, biliousness, sour stomach, headache, lack of appetite. A spoonful at the first sneeze or snuffle will kill a cold outright. Half the ailments of winter start with constipation followed by a cold.

Lloyd George Leaves for Indianapolis

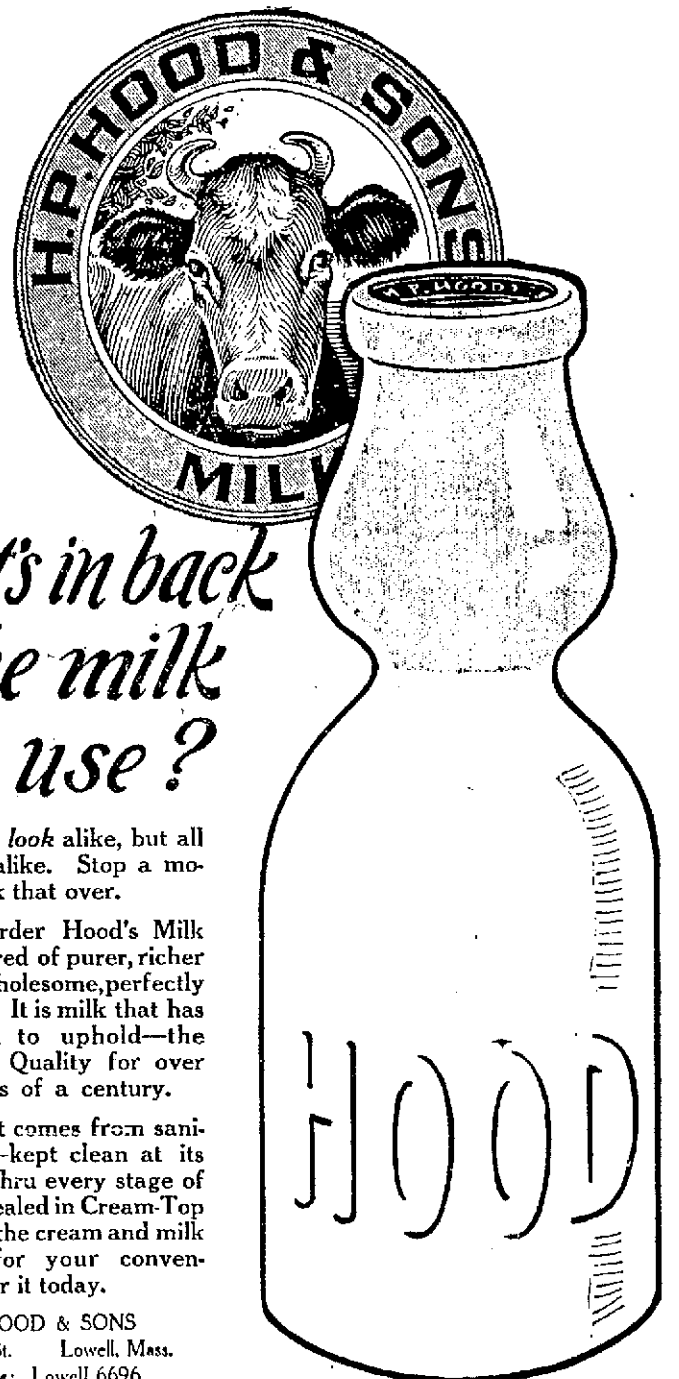

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 22. (By the Associated Press).—David Lloyd George, Dame Margaret Lloyd George, and their daughter, Miss Megan, left Louisville this morning for Indianapolis, after a quiet week-end spent here as the guests of Judge Robert W. Bingham, publisher of the Courier Journal and the Louisville Times. Britain's wartime premier and his party were scheduled to arrive in Indianapolis at 11.35 a. m. No special program of activity had been arranged for Mr. Lloyd George in Indianapolis, it was said, until evening, when he was to address an American Legion mass meeting.

THE CHARTER-CHANGERS

Boston's active advocates of changes in the city's old-time charter, were never busier. The program of the boomers for a modern charter with a more vigorous foundation in many features is notable in many respects and calls for attention from the chief exponents of other New England city charters obsolete, patched, refuted, biased and otherwise.

What do many leading Bostonians desire? It would take a many-paged pamphlet of goodly proportions to answer this question in detail so that all who run might read, but suffice it to say that the chief recommendations include the following:—

The election of all members of the city council and the school committee every two years.

The return of the recall provision affecting the mayor.

The changing of the date of city elections from December to November. The rotation of names of candidates on the ballot so that no candidate could have an advantage in position over another, which is a very difficult matter.

A larger appropriation for the finance commission.

A change in the segregated budget system to make it compulsory.

District representation in the council and election by designation.

The special legislative committee sitting in the state house a week ago, found few real Bostonians present to express their views on the proposed city charter changes. The absence of the reputed anxious supporters of the proposed amendments was a surprise to the committee men and Mr. Morton Prince, who by the way, has long been a prominent member of the so-called Boston Charter association. And yet many Boston citizens, as listed, possibly the legislative committee would be more impressed with the need of the changes suggested, if more citizens of the Hub had turned out to show their real interest in the matter in hand.

For other cities the legislature seldom favors charter changes unless demanded by the people. Occasionally it is otherwise in reference to Boston. The recall provision has been a great source of trouble in some cities but seldom of any practical use.

SAVING CIVILIZATION

If it were necessary to enter the World War to save civilization, it is necessary now to stand by France for the same reason. In her demand for just reparations so far as Germany can pay. The trouble with the Germans is, that they do not believe they were conquered in the war. They believe that by resistance they can stave off the consequences of defeat and rise again to a status in which they can challenge the world.

Germany's plans went wrong in the World War because the United States entered the conflict; but she still has hopes of recovery and of forming a combination by which she will be able some day to dominate the world. That day may come if the allied powers throw away their victory by opposing France.

SOVIET SUN WANING

Not all of the congressmen who entered the Europe summer-trip last year and visited various ancient lands where political conditions today are far from the best, are now in raptures over the Russian Soviet government situation as it presents itself today. To be sure, some American congressmen were not astute in the credulity of their reception by the early Soviet leaders and given exhibitions of empty-gestures and government schedules and allowed benefits that convinced some of the foreign warblers that the people of Russia had almost a better place to live in today than have plain Americans at home.

But Congressman Britten, republican of Illinois, was not so easily fooled. He saw, although Mr. Britten, it must not be forgotten, has previously for some years advocated recognition of commercial relations with Russia, he has just returned from a month's trip of Russian territory and has informed President Coolidge that he is now utterly opposed to any form of recognition of the Soviet authorities' government.

The Soviet regime is described by Congressman Britten as "a visionary government, whose very foundation is based on hunger, anarchy, Bolshevism and theft."

Mr. Britten had previously publicly expressed frank opinions in favor of recognition of a commercial treaty with Russia; but now he returns home convinced that any recognition would be only leading American strength to a cause that " sooner or later must fail," according to Mr. Britten's way of putting it.

The late President Harding's undeviated speech, made public in San Francisco, practically closed the door to further hopes for a meeting of the United States and Soviet Russia on a commercial treaty basis.

ENFORCING THE LIQUOR LAW

It is gratifying to find that the attention of the police department and all those who are interested in the enforcement of the prohibition law to find no less an authority than Malcolm C. Davis, district superintendent of the northeastern district of the Anti-Saloon League, feeling that Lowell is a comparatively dry city so far as the sale of liquor is concerned. Everywhere he found violations in the number and quality of those realizing the profits and wealth of this business. Said Davis and the men he is employed in enforcing the law are engaged in their efforts to stamp out the sale of the poisonous liquor which is the manufacture of the Anti-Saloon League.

By headquarters Judge Harlow is commended for his energetic dealing with offenders brought before him on the charge of violating the liquor law. The police department is also being commended for its efforts in the enforcement of the law and the number of convictions prove that they are steadily keeping their finger on the pulse of the city and the police department, which is authorized by Mayor Donovan to enforce the law without fear or favor.

THE AMOSKEAG RESUMES

It is glad news to the people of Manchester that the great Amoskeag mill starts up today on a 90 per cent basis after several weeks' idleness during which the 10,000 employees were in a state of anxiety as to the future of the industry.

Various views have been expressed as to the cause of the shut-down, but undoubtedly the same influences that led to curtailment elsewhere were operative in Manchester. These were, lack of orders for the goods manufactured and a shortage of cotton until such time as the new crop came into the market. Several of the Manchester mills had been running half time for months because of this shortage of cotton. The Amoskeag and a few other mills closed down because of this, which was their principal output, had gone out of fashion and their stockpiles were filled with unsalable goods. The supply of cotton is insufficient to meet the world's needs and it is expected, therefore, that the textile business will suffer from this handicap for some time to come.

OUR BEST CUSTOMER

Europe, despite her disturbed condition, is still our best customer for the purchase of our surplus products. She is buying a little more than half our total exports. Her purchases of American raw materials, manufactured goods and foodstuffs are running about a third more than our sales to Canada, Mexico and South America combined.

Manufactured goods lately have been making up two-fifths of our exports. They have been averaging at the rate of 1500 million dollars a year. This represents quite a large part of the output of our factories and mills—enough to pay a million wage earners $1500 a year apiece. Thus it appears that the foreign situation is closely connected with the average American pocketbook.

There is much curiosity as to what effect the new plan of operating our merchant marine may have.

SAVING HER REPLY

While standing in Mexico many years ago, a "razzini" appeared in a theater where the actor looked in such an extent that the stage was covered with water. She wanted to postpone the performance when she was told of this state of affairs, but the manager objected. As much water as possible was bailed from the stage, but it was by no means dry when she appeared. With her stepped on one dry spot in another she held up her long-trained gown, not wishing to ruin it. One aristocratic woman, who was seated in a box slightly lower than the stage, began to giggle, then she talked to her companion in an angry tone. Finally she arose and addressed those behind her that the entire audience could hear. "Just imagine!" she exclaimed. "A prima donna coming out in a high-heeled ballet girl! 'I razzini was including Lucia. When she overheard this remark, she inserted a few words of her own in the libretto. "Very madam," she sang, "the stage is very wet, but for you will pay for a new pair of shoes, I will lower this one." The audience burst out laughing. The woman so addressed turned her chair around and sat with her back to the stage during the rest of the performance.

THE GARDEN

In one small, fenced space
Beauty and dignity, and noble content
Make their abiding place
And measure less peace is sent.
There time takes note of tender happiness
The shimmer of a butterfly's blue wings
Above the clustered phlox.
A spider's web to work a miracle
Between two hyacinths
A twilight cricket's humble prophetic;
A brown bird by a pool, and all that

IRON

Production of pig iron in the United States has slumped some since the middle of the summer, when all records were being smashed. But the iron output still is over three times as big as it was at this time of year in 1920, during hard times. And it is a fourth more than in 1913, a typical pre-war normal year. The outlook is good. We can't expect records to be broken month after month without some setbacks. Business comes in waves.

RAILROAD CONVENTION

Merrimack branch, Episcopal Diocese, Sunday School union, held a convention Sunday afternoon at St. Anne's parish house, with delegates present from Lowell, Andover, Lawrence, Chelmsford, Billerica, Groton, Ayer and Shirley. Both Episcopal churches in this city, St. Anne's and St. John's, were represented.

The convention opened with services in the church at which Rev. George Marshall, assistant rector of Grace church in Lawrence, was the preacher. Later there was a discussion of practical problems in the parish house. The chairman of this conference was Rev. M. Kendrick of North Andover and of particular interest was a report upon the summer conference held in Concord, N. H., submitted by Miss Orpha Ingham of St. John's church.

Supper was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Harvey A. Taylor, assisted by Mrs. Humphreys, Mildred Dink, Dorothy Turner, Mary Campbell, Emily Davis and Alice Butterfield.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Lowell high school students are now more encouraged over the prospects of their football team in the big game of the year, the Thanksgiving day game against Lawrence high, particularly after an analysis of the team's showing against the Boston high school of the season. The Lowell team last Friday, the Lowell eleven in that game showed big improvement over the earlier season games and although they did not defeat Lawrence by so big a score as Lawrence did, they, nevertheless, showed up better in one other respect. Against Lowell the Lawrence team managed to make only one first down, while against Lawrence the Boston team made first down several times. This would indicate that the Lowell team, therefore, has a stronger defensive team than Lawrence. Reasoning this way, we must admit that Lawrence is stronger on the offense than Lowell, because the down-river team picked up a bigger score. But Coach Tilden has made such good progress in developing a defense that he can now devote more time to putting a punch into the play.

THE ORGANIZATION OF A FRESHMAN FOOTBALL SQUAD

At the high school this year has many advantages. It not only provides play and exercise for boys who are deprived of having a chance to play on the regular team representing the school; but it also creates more enthusiasm among the students. Not only that, but a freshman eleven helps develop football players for next year's school team. The boys are taught the rudiments of the game and the experience they gain as members of the freshman eleven will mean just so much towards building up a team in the years to come. It is to be hoped that those in charge of athletics continue to hold the freshman football squad together. There is now some good material among the freshmen, which was evident in last Friday's game. The argument is now being made that in another year these lads will have increased in size and weight to be available candidates for the school eleven.

AS I SAT IN MY FAVORITE RESTAURANT

The other evening awaiting my usual second and soothing cup of coffee, I became interested in watching a waitress change the table cloth on a nearby table. The cloth finally changed, as she replaced sugar, salt, pepper and other accessories I noticed she carefully spilled just a spray of salt. It seemed to me quite peculiar and odd, the waitress called her over and asked her if the salt-spilling had not been on purpose.

"Yes, it was," she said, blushing. "I didn't think any one noticed it. You see that's a 'charm' and the next customer that comes in will come to my table. The more salt he gets in his eye, so far tonight and I'm anxious to make it an even dollar. You watch—this always works."

While I have no faith in "charms" I watched and sure enough it did work.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Lowell high school students are now more encouraged over the prospects of their football team in the big game of the year, the Thanksgiving day game against Lawrence high, particularly after an analysis of the team's showing against the Boston high school of the season. The Lowell team last Friday, the Lowell eleven in that game showed big improvement over the earlier season games and although they did not defeat Lawrence by so big a score as Lawrence did, they, nevertheless, showed up better in one other respect. Against Lowell the Lawrence team managed to make only one first down, while against Lawrence the Boston team made first down several times. This would indicate that the Lowell team, therefore, has a stronger defensive team than Lawrence. Reasoning this way, we must admit that Lawrence is stronger on the offense than Lowell, because the down-river team picked up a bigger score. But Coach Tilden has made such good progress in developing a defense that he can now devote more time to putting a punch into the play.

THE ORGANIZATION OF A FRESHMAN FOOTBALL SQUAD

At the high school this year has many advantages. It not only provides play and exercise for boys who are deprived of having a chance to play on the regular team representing the school; but it also creates more enthusiasm among the students. Not only that, but a freshman eleven helps develop football players for next year's school team. The boys are taught the rudiments of the game and the experience they gain as members of the freshman eleven will mean just so much towards building up a team in the years to come. It is to be hoped that those in charge of athletics continue to hold the freshman football squad together. There is now some good material among the freshmen, which was evident in last Friday's game. The argument is now being made that in another year these lads will have increased in size and weight to be available candidates for the school eleven.

AS I SAT IN MY FAVORITE RESTAURANT

The other evening awaiting my usual second and soothing cup of coffee, I became interested in watching a waitress change the table cloth on a nearby table. The cloth finally changed, as she replaced sugar, salt, pepper and other accessories I noticed she carefully spilled just a spray of salt. It seemed to me quite peculiar and odd, the waitress called her over and asked her if the salt-spilling had not been on purpose.

"Yes, it was," she said, blushing. "I didn't think any one noticed it. You see that's a 'charm' and the next customer that comes in will come to my table. The more salt he gets in his eye, so far tonight and I'm anxious to make it an even dollar. You watch—this always works."

While I have no faith in "charms" I watched and sure enough it did work.

ABOUT 2,500,000 RADIOS RECEIVING SETS are now in use in America, according to estimates by The Wireless Age. Figuring four to the average family, this suggests that about one American in every nine is a radio listener.

The argument is now being made that the "saturation point" will be reached when the Continental can be eliminated from the evening's chop suey of sound. Interference by code senders is considerably responsible for slump of interest in radio.

Frank Beard, the progressive Central street jeweler, is showing several pictures of Henry Sullivan's remarkable swim of the English channel. The pictures, in one of the store windows attract endless groups of shoppers. Mr. Beard is a member of the North member of the Ad club and is jubilant that Henry promised to attend the weekly noon-day luncheon of the club at Liberty hall today.

The activity of William M. Wood at Shawmut Village, this past week, seems to emphatically disprove the rumor that the American Woolen Company head is in poor health. Evidently Mr. Wood's dental of the rumor stands.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

Supernal Dubs

There's just a little tedious
In hearing, through a medium,
What speakers have to say;
Their efforts conversational,
Are hardly educational,
They frequently display.

For all their ghostly mystery,
An ignorance of history
And other things like that
Which, when they make it audible,
Is very far from laudable,
In fact, it's pretty flat.

These spirits so ethereal
Appear to lack material
For thoughts that stir the mind;
Their talk so lacks in clarity,
That we assume, in charity,

When Jesse James and Pharoah
Repeat the same scenario
About the spirit throng,
When speech of Grant or Bonaparte
Is scarcely to be known apart
There must be something wrong!

So, though it's rather rude in us,
These speeches platitudinous
O'er which the spirits mull,
Convince us, as they mander on,
The "higher plane" they wander on
Must be exceeding dull!

HONOR MEMORY OF BELOVED PASTOR

The centennial anniversary of the death of Dr. Henry Cummings, for 60 years pastor of the First Parish Unitarian church of Billerica, was celebrated at that church yesterday with impressive ceremony. A stirring sermon on the life of Dr. Cummings was given by Rev. William L. Walsh at 10:30 a. m., and a specially prepared musical program was given by the choir under the direction of Harry Mallett, with Mrs. Bertha Perry of Lowell as soloist and Mrs. Hilda Garde Perry Woodbury at the organ.

In his memorial sermon, Rev. Mr. Walsh traced the history of the church from 1659, when the first edifice was erected, through the years of the erection of the present building in 1797 and up to the present time. It was during the years from 1793 to 1823 that Dr. Cummings was pastor of the church and it was on the history of this period that Rev. Mr. Walsh dwelt mainly. He praised Dr. Cummings as the greatest patriot of the town, stating that it was through his efforts that Billerica sent one-fifth of its population into the service of Washington, and as one of the most eloquent preachers of his time. HOW ZEV WON FROM PAPYRUS

ZEV MAY MEET MY OWN

Followers of the Turf Discuss Probable Race Between American Horses

Zev, Winner Over Papyrus, Ready to Race Grayson's My Own in Ten Days

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Followers of the turf today are discussing a probable race between Zev, winner over Papyrus in Saturday's international classic and My Own, another three-year-old colt.

The excitement over the great American victory hardly had subsided when Harry P. Sinclair, owner of Zev, last night came forward with the announcement that his horse was ready to meet Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson's My Own, if the race could be staged within the next 10 days. He said he would prefer the Belmont Park race track for the event.

Mr. Sinclair's announcement pleased the admirers of My Own, many of whom are convinced that Zev will finish second when the thoroughbred meets My Own in the race against Papyrus and if the two horses meet they will settle an argument of long standing.

Rear Admiral Grayson was anxious to put his race against Zev before the international race, but he and Mr. Sinclair could not agree on the distance, and negotiations did not get far.

English Race Men Talk

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(By the Associated Press.) English racing men, discussing Zev's victory at Belmont Park, Saturday, said that it was foolish to send Papyrus to the United States to race under such conditions, that no horse possibly could do itself justice on a track quite different from those on which it had been accustomed in such a short time after a rough voyage and that the only lesson to be learned from the match is "don't do it again."

The idea of a return race in England is strongly disavowed by these authorities and, according to the Daily Mail, several others have declared that should a contest be planned they would appeal to the jockey club to prohibit it.

COLUMBIA TO RACE BLUENOSE

Champion of Gloucester Fishing Fleet Prepares to Set Sail for Halifax

Beats Ford and Howard in Trial Race to Determine Challenger

GLoucester, Oct. 22.—The Gloucester schooner Columbia, champion of the Gloucester fishing fleet and challenger for the international fisherman's trophy, are preparing today to set sail for Halifax to compete in the international championship series, scheduled to begin on Saturday, Oct. 27. In the trial race held here yesterday, but unfortunately owing to the lack of wind, the Columbia proved herself the faster schooner, beating Ford and Howard in the trial race to determine the challenger.

The time limit of five and one-half hours expired before the vessels had completed the 31-mile course set for the trial, but in the 35 miles sailed, the Columbia gained as many minutes on the Ford in light airs, weather, regarded by fishermen as "the Ford's chance."

With daylight fading, the time almost exhausted and the Columbia miles ahead, the Ford and Howard, however, the second trial schooner, departed and sailed for Gloucester.

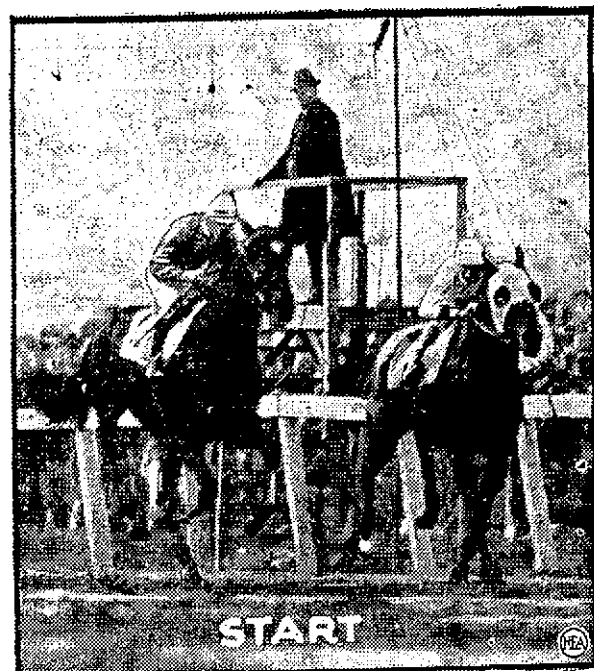

The elimination race, held at the 11th hour because of the late arrival from the fishing grounds of Captain Morrissey, with the Ford was staged, committee members explained, in order to give Captain Morrissey his fair chance. With the Ford he lost last year's international series in the Gloucester-Bluenose, although he defeated the Canadian schooner in two starts. He had defeated the Elizabeth Howard and the Schooner in the first race in August, and it was felt that he had a right to his chance. Gloucester, while expressing regret at the defeat of Morrissey, hailed with delight the victory of Captain Ben Pine, who held the helm of the Columbia. In Gloucester opinion Pine has made possible America's continued participation in the annual fisherman's regatta in the face of many discouraging mishaps.

When the Esperanto, which won the first international series at Halifax in 1920, was wrecked on Sable island the next year Ben Pine made possible the building of the Puritan as a cup contender. The Puritan on her maiden voyage sailed from Sable island, last year the Ford lost to the Bluenose and then Pine and his assistant built the Columbia to win the cup.

Whether Pine will command the Columbia at Halifax is still a question. Under strict rules governing the event, Captain Pine may not qualify as a professional fisherman, his friends say, as he now spends his time in an office. If "Pine" is not eligible, it is said that Captain J. Henry Larkin, skipper of the Boston schooner Mayflower, will take charge of the American challenger.

Earl Sande kicked Zev (on the inside) into the lead the very second the starting barrier was sprung. Here you see the American entry getting the jump on the English Derby winner.

This probably shows how the race was won and lost. Sande allowed Zev to run with his head free, while Jockey Donoghue seems to be restraining Papyrus from Zev's killing pace.

At the mile post Zev's advantage has increased and Papyrus and his rider are being splattered with mud from the heels of the American horse which is drawing away as they enter the stretch.

LOWELL A MEMBER OF NEW ENGLAND BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Tentative Plans for Fast Professional League Laid at Meeting Held Here Yesterday—Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Lynn, Clinton, Fitchburg, Gloucester and Newburyport Proposed Circuit

Tentative plans for the organization of a New England professional basketball league were laid at an enthusiastic meeting attended by 14 delegates held at the Crescent alleys, Haverhill, yesterday afternoon.

The delegates, namely, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Lynn, Clinton, Gloucester and Fitchburg, were admitted with Newburyport proposed as the eighth city in the circuit. Several others, however, desire to enter. The committee on franchises, appointed yesterday, will study the situation during the present week and report back to the body which will meet in Lowell on next Sunday.

The season was replete with enthusiasm and optimism and all present expressed their desire to see such a gathering responded to the call for the first meeting. All delegates declared that the proposal to form a New England league was timely, particularly after the success enjoyed the past season in baseball.

"Basketball," said Delegate Silk of Lynn, "came back stronger than ever before a year ago. Virtually every city and town in the state had a team and the plan to form a New England organization to be made up of the strongest teams and cities available, is one that is bound to find favor with the fans. The attendance at all games indicated a great interest in the sport. It should appeal to all lovers of athletics. It's a great game and played under organization rules and regulations ought to enjoy even greater popularity. Lynn is delighted at the opportunity to become affiliated with such an organization and will do all in its power to put it over big."

Other delegates talked along similar lines. Delegates Haverhill and Lawrence, of Clinton, managers of fast teams last season and for several seasons past, declared the league proposal had already met with approval in their cities and both predicted that with such a circuit as the one proposed, where virtually all the jumps can be made the same day, the transportation expense would be cut to a minimum. Haverhill and Clinton teams are already working out in preparation for the season.

Temporary officers were elected to serve until the complete circuit is made up, when a election of permanent officials will be held. William H. Sullivan of Lowell was chosen president, and Ray L. Hirsch of Haverhill, secretary. Both are newspapermen and have been empowered to bring in a set of by-laws, etc., to be presented at next Sunday's meeting.

J. P. GRANT WINS CLUB CUP IN VESPER CLUB TOURNAMENT

Final Events of Season Held Saturday and Sunday—H. N. Morton and Warren Mansur Deadlocked in Play-off for President's Cup—Golf Ball Sweepstakes Brings Out Big Entry List—Perfect Weather for Game

The tournament season drew to a close at the Vesper Country club over the week end and with the finale in the club cup and president's cup events.

Both were at medal play handicap. James P. Grant captured the club cup with a net score of 65, representing a gross of 87 and a handicap of 22. The finals in the president's cup play brought a deadlock between Warren Mansur and H. N. Morton, their respective scores being 87-25-75, 87-25-75. The play-off will come later.

MURPHY AND ADAMS IN RETURN ENGAGEMENT

Billy Murphy of this city and Steve Adams, formerly of Chicago but now of Boston, are listed to perform in the main bout of the Moody club show in Crescent rink on Thursday night.

Adams came to Lowell a few weeks ago, virtually unknown, and he gave Murphy a great battle in a fast 10-round bout. It marked Adams' first experience against a southpaw and he gave a very creditable account of himself. In fact, many felt that he put up a better fight against the Lowell boy than any of the latter's opponents to date. Adams, tall and rangy, measured up well with the Lowell flash. He proved aggressive and carried the fighting to the Lowell boy in nearly every round. He was a little off on his distance, due he claimed to his unfamiliarity with two southern states. Murphy's style bothered him in the early rounds and consequently he pilled up quite a lead. In the closing stanzas Adams showed a better advantage, in dealing Right after the bout he expressed a desire to get another crack at Murphy, predicting that he would be more successful in a return engagement.

Since meeting Murphy, Adams has fought and won one bout in Boston. Murphy also has appeared in one bout, meeting and winning the decision over Charley Many here a couple of weeks ago.

Both boys are training hard for the battle.

Houts in Nashua
Quite a delegation of Lowell fans will go to Nashua tonight to witness the bouts arranged by the Nashua boxing club. Two ten round events will feature the program. Young Tansy of Roxbury and Porky Higgins of Nashua meet in one and Louis Hamilton of Nashua and Bobby Jones of Bridgeport will clash in the other. There will also be two six rounders.

SCORELESS TIE IS CADET GAME RESULT

In a well played game on the old Fair grounds yesterday afternoon, the O.M.L. Cadets and the C.V.M.A. of Lawrence played to a scoreless tie. The large crowd on hand saw some good football as both sides used every formation to gain the touchdown that never came after four thrilling periods of play.

LOWELL AND LAWRENCE How High School Teams Compare Based on Their Work Against Commerce

On the morning of Columbus day the Lawrence high school eleven defeated the Boston High School of Commerce team by three touchdowns, and Friday Lowell beat the Boston team by one touchdown. The figures at first glance would indicate that Lawrence therefore is far superior.

But an analysis of the play in both games puts a different aspect on the situation. Commerce had practically the same lineup in both games, the same line and same backfield. Against Lowell high the Commerce players made only one first down, but against Lawrence high they made seven first downs in the first two periods alone. There is only one conclusion to draw from this, and that is that Lowell has a much better defensive team than Lawrence.

The writer saw both games and without prejudice it must be said that Lowell's defense is the stronger because the Lowell line showed that they knew how to tackle and tackle hard. It is the tackling that counts in a football game. Hardly a tackle was missed by the Lowell players, whereas in the Lawrence game the Commerce team frequently shook off their tacklers and gained much ground thereby.

The tackling of the Lowell men was deadly. The linemen and the ends particularly seemed to have their hands covered with glue, for whenever they grabbed a Commerce man there was no slipping out of the clutches.

It is a long cry to Thanksgiving when Lawrence comes here for the big game of the season, and Coach Liston has plenty of time to develop an offensive punch that will compare with the defensive standard his team has already reached. And the darkened clouds that suddenly appeared as a result of Lowell's first two games of the season are fast being made to disappear. Lowell's objective is the Thanksgiving game.

MACK SAYS RUEL'S BEST GARRISON FINISH WINS CATCHER FOR CENTRALVILLE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Connie Mack, famous leader of the Athletics, regards Muddy Ruel of Washington as the best catcher in the major leagues on the form shown in 1923. That is some compliment for a catcher who for a half dozen years has floundered about as the second string catcher on the New York and Boston clubs in the American league.

When Ruel was secured by Washington he got a chance to work regularly, sharing the catching with Ed the catcher. Then an injury to Charley caused practically all the catching to fall on Ruel. While Ruel is rather slight for a catcher he has thrived on regular work and has finally come into his own, reaching the pinnacle of stardom as a big leaguer.

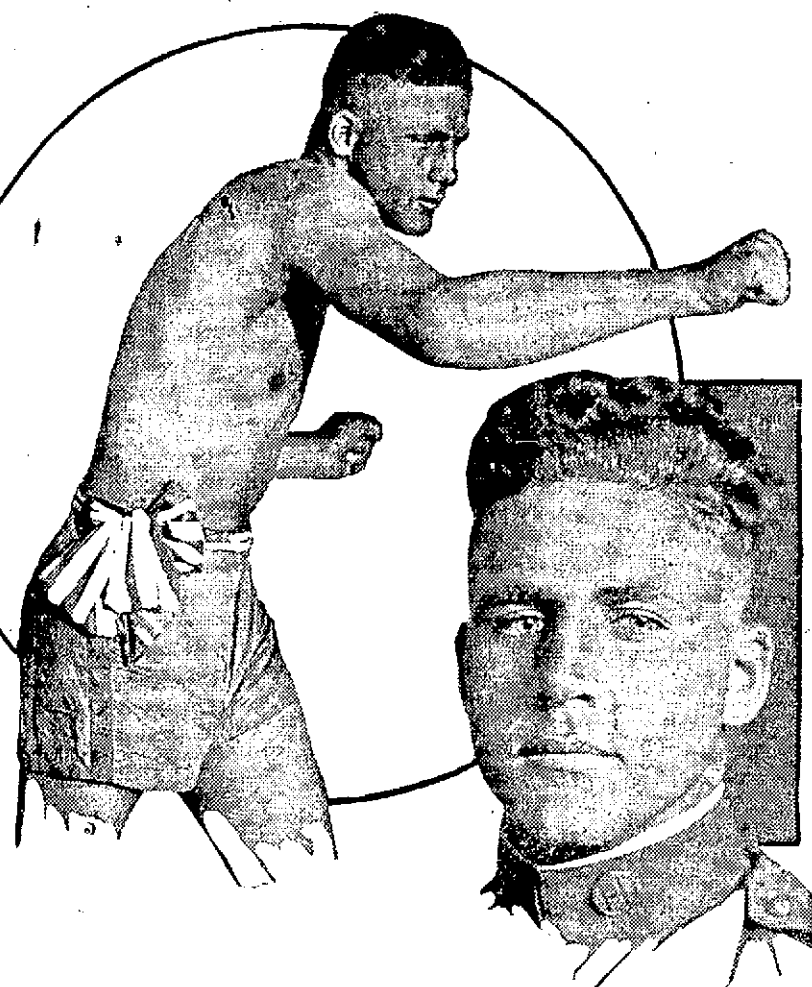

"Ruel is the best catcher in either major league this year," says Mack. "He has handled his pitchers in fine style and has been a terror at the bat. In addition he is tireless, the type of catcher that makes every player on his club perk up. Ruel, in my way of thinking, is easily the best catcher of the year in every department of play."

Weeks and Ford are arguing, but there is too much other football news to read what they say.

ing day game against Lawrence. At present Lawrence is the favorite on the early season show. But the odds are sure to drop fast if Coach Liston can develop his team along other lines as he has defensively.

"Mightiest of Fighting Men" Now A Mere Shell, Barred From Ring

By JOE WILLIAMS

Not so many months back they were calling him "the mightiest fighting man of 40,000 fighting men."

They were still recollecting that Black Jack Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American forces, had shaken his hand, whacked him admiringly across the shoulder blades, and publicly applauded his boxing feats.

Out of the war had come no finer fighting type, no better specimen of physical perfection.

It seemed certain that Bob Martin, winner of the Inter-Allied heavyweight championship—would reach the goal his buddies had set for him—a lofty position in professional fighting.

Today, instead we learn that Martin is shattered in physique, an athlete has been, shunned by boxing promoters and barred in 18 states for fear of a possible fatality.

Martin, recently boxed Marty Burke at New Orleans. Burke knocked him out in seven rounds. Martin was a pathetic figure from the start. The wonder was that he lasted as long as he did. His legs trembled, his breath came in short gasps, he had no capacity for punishment.

After the fight Richard T. Burke of New Orleans, president of the National Boxing association—an organization that means well, but gets nowhere—broadcast a letter to boxing clubs throughout the country, requesting them to "protect Martin from himself" by refusing to use him as a contestant in a fight.

Martin's manager, Jimmy Bronson, a great admirer of the A.K.A. champion, is said to have persuaded Burke to take the action he did.

The collapse of "the mightiest fighting man of 40,000 fighting men" may be attributed to the fact that Martin was trying to be what he wasn't.

Martin was not a fighter—not as the gods of the cauliflower trade are called. At least he was not an instinctive fighter. He was big, had two good hands, could hit hard with his right, was wonderfully courageous, but the spark of the natural fist fighter was missing.

In the ring he was a mechanical worker, who usually gave up the impression of a student trying to remember his lessons. There was never about his work that sharp fainting, quick countering and deft ducking that unthinkingly mark the actions of the natural born fighter—the Dempseys, Leonard, Brittons.

Martin tried hard to make the grade.

He wanted to make good for his buddies, who had fought with him in the trenches. They told him he was a trencher. They told him he was a trencher. Of course there was good money in the profession—more than Martin could possibly make doing anything else. This had something to do with his staying in the game. But in the main he was eager to fulfill the expectations of his old comrades in arms.

Martin did fight some creditable fights. It took a certain skill to win from fellows like Bill Brennan, Bob Roper and Frank Moran, old as they were. Neither team kept possession of the pugilist for any length of time during this period, fumbles marking the offensives of each eleven until Worcester made its first and only real threat already described.

Ken Smith in Stellar Role

The work of Ken Smith at left half back for Textile stood out prominently during the fourth period and his knife thrusts off the tackles put the knif in scoring position for Pop Olson.

The entire Textile team played a creditable game, particularly the middle of the line which charged well and sensed Worcester's plays in good fashion. Textile did not show much variety on offense, its attack evidently being patterned along orthodox lines. In most instances the ball carrier moved with good intention and the ends went through and cleaned out whenever necessary.

The lineup and summary:

TEXTILE HAD BETTER TEAM

Visitor Held to But Four
First Downs in Entire Contest

Lowell Textile rushed its way to victory over Worcester Polytechnic Institute on the local campus Saturday afternoon, 19 to 0.

Only once did the visitors threaten to score, in the third period when they held the ball on Textile's five-yard line with four downs ahead of them for a touchdown. Two first downs into the line netted four yards. Then came a bad pass from the centre and Worcester was lucky to recover on the 12-yard line. A forward pass was picked out of the air by Ken Smith of Textile who raced up the sideline 45 yards before being thrown.

At no other time did W. P. I. look dangerous and during the entire game made only four first downs. Textile scored twice in the first period and once in the fourth. One of three tries for point after touchdown was made by Olson, the Textile leader, who carried the ball over for all three scores.

Local School Opened Fast

Textile opened the game and had scored within five minutes after the starting whistle. Olson taking it over and kicking another point into the score. Worcester then kicked off and after line stables gained 20 yards Textile was forced to kick. W. P. I. fumbled on the first play, Woods recovering for Textile. Mackinstry, playing in place of Olson in nose and wearing a head bandage that resembled a K.K.K. mask, slipped around right end for 18 yards and two plays later Olson again scored. This try for field was missed.

Textile should have scored in the second period when the ball was worked down to within a few feet of the Worcester goal line, only to be surrounded on downs.

W. P. I. showed a flash of offensive ability at the opening of the second half and ran back the kick-off 33 yards. Neither team kept possession of the pugilist for any length of time during this period, fumbles marking the offensives of each eleven until Worcester made its first and only real threat already described.

Ken Smith in Stellar Role

The work of Ken Smith at left half back for Textile stood out prominently during the fourth period and his knife thrusts off the tackles put the knif in scoring position for Pop Olson.

The entire Textile team played a creditable game, particularly the middle of the line which charged well and sensed Worcester's plays in good fashion. Textile did not show much variety on offense, its attack evidently being patterned along orthodox lines. In most instances the ball carrier moved with good intention and the ends went through and cleaned out whenever necessary.

SEVERE BLOW TO YALE TEAM

Charley O'Hearn, Star Halfback Out for Rest of Season With Broken Leg

Princeton Shows Little Defensive Strength Against Notre Dame

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Ruthless in attack and tough in defense, the college football squads go into practice today after the first serious battles of the year, their coaches well supplied with information about just where the trouble with each team lies.

Heavy scoring in a majority of Saturday's games indicated that defensive work had not been perfected on most playing machines. Princeton, the most notable instance among the first rank of a lack of defense, is due for some heavy work before the navy game next Saturday. After the Tigers defeat of 25 to 2 at the hands of Notre Dame, it was announced that Charlie Caldwell and Forrest, varsity centers, and Dan Conklin, the speedy regular quarter would be back on the field for this week's game at the Baltimore stadium against the Annapolis eleven. Caldwell is one of the most valuable men on the team, and his absence with the others on the hospital list was deeply felt last week.

Harvard, which showed a weak rush line attack in the game with Holy Cross, will work hard on that type of play in preparation for the game with Dartmouth. The Crimson goal line defense was as well perfected as could be desired.

Pennsylvania came out of the Columbia game in good shape and goes into practice today to work on some tricks for Center college. Washington and Jefferson will also be in action. Carnegie Tech will start out ready for the University of Detroit.

Yale suffered more severely than any other college, however, with the loss of Charley O'Hearn, star halfback, who is out for the rest of the season with a broken leg. His only thought now is to recover before the hockey season gets under way. The back-coaches have their work cut out for them, to develop a reliable dropkick and punt before the Brown game next Saturday. Stevens, halfback, is considered

EASIEST FIGHT WAS LEONARD'S HARDEST

By N.E.A. Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Despite the fact that he won the bout with comparative ease, Benny Leonard says his contest with Freddie Welsh, which resulted in the coronation of the sleek Harlem lightweight lad as champion, was the hardest fight of his career.

"The mental strain made it hard for me," says Benny. "I had beaten Welsh twice in no-decision contests but had been unable to reach his jaw with a knockout punch. When we were matched for our third scrap, the thought that I must knock out one of the greatest defensive fighters that ever lived, preyed on my mind constantly. Billy Gilson continually reminded me that I must win inside the limit, for, he said, it would probably be the last crack I would get at the champion. When I went out for a walk my friends told me that Freddie Welsh, my trainer, George Elmer, demonstrated punches with which I must knock out Freddie. For weeks I heard nothing but 'knock him out.' When I finally walked into the ring for the contest my knees were hammering together, not due to fear of Welsh but because I was afraid I wouldn't get an opportunity to land the punch that would not breathe of his senses and title. Sitting in the corner before the going ring, Gilson and Elmer whispered to me, 'You must stop him. You must!'

"The bell finally sounded and with the words 'knock him out' ringing in my ears I started to fight. For eight rounds I tried hard to land the punishing punch but couldn't. Welsh absolutely refused to lead, and although I was outpointing him, I could see visions of Freddie walking from the ring, beaten but still champion.

"Finally, in the ninth round, I won. When I returned to my dressing room and realized that I was lightweight champion and had really knocked out Welsh, the reaction left me absolutely powerless. It was the most nerve-racking experience I ever had in the ring."

PILLETTE'S SLUMP HIT TIGERS HARD

By N.E.A. Service

DETROIT, Oct. 22.—Herman Pillette, of the Detroit Tigers, was the biggest pitching disappointment in the American league during the 1923 season. Counted upon to lead the Cobblers right up in the race, Pillette failed utterly to come through.

In his first year in the majors, the Detroit pitcher completed the campaign alongside of Faber, Rummel, Shocker and Bush. His record was 15 victories and 12 defeats. He was a sensation, being the best looking youngster since the 1892 crop of hurriers. Great things were expected of him this season.

But Pillette fell down. And with a team that had won 14 triumphs against 20 beatings. He lost more games than any other pitcher in the major organization. True, many of them were low-score whoppers, but they counted as losses just the same.

At the start of the chase, Detroit was conceded to have an almost even chance to win the pennant. Many considered it a sure bet. But illness and injuries, which turned the team into a night club, raised havoc and spoiled whatever chance the Tigers may have had to nose out the Yankees.

Pillette's failure to duplicate his 1922 performance also hurt the Tigers' efforts to lead the event to an appreciable extent. In fact, had the youngster displayed the same brand of ball as characterized his work last year, the team piloted by Cobb might have given the Huggins crowd a real battle for honors.

Pillette, however, is not to be considered as a "flash in the pan." Far from it. No doubt the past season was just one of those "off years" that crop out in a pitcher's career every now and then. Next year may tell a different story. Cobb thinks so.

Stars Again After Five Years' Recess

Back in 1916 Hefty Hazel was the star fullback of the Rutgers eleven. "He'll be a bear next year," exclaimed Foster Sanford, noted Rutgers coach. Hefty was not a bear the next year. He was an absentee. Hefty failed to come back. For five years he stayed away. Two years ago he reappeared at Rutgers. "Was just taking a little recess," he explained. Now he is eligible to play again. Sanford is using him in his old position at which the hefty one is again starring.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

On the district court blotter over the week-end 17 releases for drunkenness were recorded. Several less fortunate individuals appeared in the dock and received stiff sentences.

Michael J. Burns was given 24 hours to get out of the city under a penalty of a six months' sentence in the house of correction. He was arrested in Mid-dlesex street yesterday afternoon for stopping pedestrians and threatening them unless they gave him money. He was booked for drunkenness.

Mary Brydon was ordered committed to the house of correction for a term of two months, a suspended sentence to that effect being revoked.

Howard Murphy, a quarry-worker from Westford was sentenced to the house of correction for two months; John Ward, for four months; Aknos Richard, for three months; Charles Deschene, for six months, while a suspended sentence was imposed on Patrick Curtin.

For illegal keeping Peter Brunelle paid a fine of $100.

Who is this man Ford we see so much about in the newspapers? Is he a presidential candidate?

BIG EARLY MORNING GAMBLING RAID

One of the biggest gambling raids in the city took place about 3 o'clock yesterday morning when Sergt. Winn and Officers Cooney and Moore interrupted a game in a newly-opened Market street clubroom and arrested 23 men for being present where gaming implements were found. Admittance to the premises was gained through a window, a merry scuffle for exits ensuing with the sudden and surprising appearance of the officers of the law. A revolver with seven cartridges in it was found on a stairway leading to the street.

In single file formation the following men entered the district courtroom this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against them: So-tiros Cozas, Nick Peter, Demetrios Georges, Thos. Seper, Kostas George, George Bazar, Athanasios Apostolos, Christos Christio, William Boutarakos, Nick Koutis, George Bass, George Costakos, Heros Pappas, Louis Baflos, Nicholas Valtarakos, Peter Pappas, John Trafilis, John Regis, Arist Tropas, Geo. Pavlakis, Gregorius Moxo, Peter Stavros and Louis Piktatodia.

Fines of $5 each were imposed.

TEXTILE WORKERS CONFER HERE ON PRESENT-DAY OUTLOOK FOR NEW ENGLAND MILLS

Delegates Report Curtailment is General—Think Woolen Industry Will Continue Present Schedule for 1923—Cotton Mills to Determine Plans at Manufacturers' Boston Convention, is Belief

Over 100 delegates from all parts of industrial New England assembled at the Trades & Labor hall here yesterday for the quarterly meeting of the New England Textile Workers of America. President Francis Johnson of Maynard was chairman and included among those present were organizer Thomas J. Hogan of the national organization and John Hender, Lowell loomfixer, member of the national executive board.

Ichikawa Plessee, a young Japanese woman who represented herself as obtaining data on labor conditions for her government, was admitted to the meeting which lasted for eight hours. She comes from Miyazaki, Tokyo. At the close of the session she and several of the women delegates conferred on New England industrial conditions for nearly an hour.

Full Hour Hardest Hit

Lowell, Lawrence, Manchester, Nashua, Clinton, North Hampton, Fall River, Maynard and other Massachusetts textile cities were represented by several delegates as was the Pawtucket valley section of Rhode Island and Newmarket, N. H. New Bedford was the only New England textile center not represented.

A serious depression, regarded as perhaps the most unpromising in New England was reported from Fall River. The Lowell delegates reported 100 loomfixers, 250 or more weavers and a goodly number of woolen spinners without any work. The majority of them are employed are working but part time.

The failure to put over a 14-hour law in Maine was reviewed and the delegates from that section reported plans already underway for renewed efforts. Loss of the referendum was traced to the small-town vote and the city of Portland, the textile and industrial communities favoring the law.

Favor Child Labor Legislation

It was voted to recommend the appointment of committees in the various cities to further the campaign for national child labor legislation.

The curtailment of the mills of New England was checked up by reports from the various delegates as being general, both in the cotton and woolen lines. No action was taken, it being the consensus of belief that the conference before assuming any definite attitude await the outcome of the National Cotton Manufacturers' association meeting in Boston at the close of the month.

Hear Report on Amoskeag

The Manchester delegation reported that the re-building at Amoskeag, on the representation plan had resulted as desired by the company, the vote having been compiled Friday. The announcement that Amoskeag would reopen today was regarded as more than a mere coincidence.

Unqualified endorsement was voted on the action of the loomfixers at the Lorraine mills, Pawtucket, R. I., on strike for the past three weeks because the corporation is said to have insisted on retaining the one non-union loomfixer in its employ.

Further Curtailment Feared

While the woolen industry bids fair to retain its present status until the close of the calendar year further curtailment in the cotton industry was thought likely by the visiting delegates.

The belief was widely expressed that the manufacturers will take no steps to reduce wages at this time and plans are laid for a general resistance of such action should it prove to be contemplated. "Leave the pay envelope alone" was the keynote of talk on this subject. It being the desire of all to maintain the present wage scale regardless of the number of days in the working week.

At the close of the conference it was voted to hold the next session in Boston on Sunday, Nov. 18.

Matrimonial

The marriage of Mr. Henry Addourian and Miss Margaret Kludjian, both well known young people of Centralville, took place Sunday afternoon in Colonial hall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Koran Lysian. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Gara. Several hundred friends of the couple were present and at the reception which followed the ceremony a wedding supper was served and an orchestra furnished music. On behalf of many of the guests, G. N. Moushagian spoke at some length and extended the best wishes of all to the happy couple.

Midweek—Deaths

Mr. Arnold W. Milliken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Milliken and Miss Violet Marie Hands, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hands of Boston, were united in marriage Saturday evening at a ceremony performed at the home of the bride. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Edward Babcock, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, and Rev. John E. Graham, of Kittery, Me., who married the bride's mother and father. The bridegroom was Miss Ruth Handman and the best man was Mr. Newton Schott of New York, a classmate of the bridegroom at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The ushers were Mr. Howard A. Hands, a brother of the bride, and Mr. Fullerton Webster of Everett, another classmate of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine and a bridal veil of chantilly lace caught up with orange blossoms and ribbons of the valley. She carried a slender bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaids wore long gowns of light blue and carried bouquets of white roses. The groom wore a tuxedo and the best man wore a tuxedo.

The bride was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Milliken and the groom was a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hands. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Babcock, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, and Rev. John E. Graham, of Kittery, Me., who married the bride's mother and father.

THE BATTLE - THE ARGUMENT OVER STATION AGENT DAD KEYES LOST WATCH CAME TO A SUDDEN END WHEN THE WATCH WAS FOUND - IT WASN'T IN HENRY HARRINGTON'S YARD AT ALL

JOHN KING PLAYED ZEV ON NOSE TO WIN

Sitting pretty in a Pullman car attached to the New York train, John King, Esq. Rumored of the Lowell elections department and one of its most painstaking clerks, rolled into town at high noon today, with money in every pocket. He saw Zev Webb and Papayus at Belmont on Saturday and that was all.

When Joeey Earl Sande urged the American racer across the line several lengths ahead of Ben Irish's entry from across the water, the homeward bound was carrying plenty of John's "luck."

The moment the central clerk stepped from the train at the Middlesex street depot he was besieged by newspaper men and photographers, but waved them all away.

"I want to get back to my desk at city hall," was John's laconic utterance.

"But you and Zev win!" someone asked.

"I'll say we did," was his rejoinder. "I had plenty on that baby's nose as it eased under the wire."

Then he flashed a roll as big as Zev's lead over the English pony at the end of the $100,000 classic, jumped into one of the taxicabs, Tom Riden used to own and said to the driver:

"City hall, Ralph."

Two more enlisted men for the navy

Notification of the acceptance of two more enlisted men for the navy was received today by Chief Water tender R. Frederick at the recruiting office in the Fairbairn building.

The first enlistment is that of William Bray of 15 Allen street, this city, and is for four-year term. The second enlistment is that of John J. Wright of 15 Allen street, this city, and is for four-year term in the services of the country and this is his re-enlistment, as a machinist's mate. He has been assigned to the U.S.S. Wright and will be sent to San Diego, Calif.

Stephen Stasiowski of 15 Lakeview avenue is the other applicant accepted. He is under age and it was necessary for him to wait until an approval could be secured from headquarters. He has signed up as a fireman, third class, and will be sent to Newport, R. I., to receive eight weeks' training as a recruit.

Advertisements

Advertisements for the Navy have been received from the local Navy club, to be distributed in stores and other prominent places in order that as nearly as possible 100 per cent of the old navy men will turn out for the parade, and that all people interested in the day's proceedings will remember the date of the events.

Dead horse lane

Persons interested in the controversy which arose last week relative to the maintenance of Dead Horse lane as a public way, today conferred with city Solicitor Patrick A. Reynolds as to existing lot lines in that vicinity. At the conference were George Taylor, representing the C. L. Hood estate; Herbert C. Merrill, representing the Wheelock estate; and Matthew Connor, official remonstrant against the effort to close the thoroughfare.

CHAS. WEBB IS EXONERATED

Jury Issues Statement Completely Exonerating Husband of Mrs. Webb

Convinced the Death of Mrs. Webb Due to Natural Causes

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Charles Webb was completely exonerated today by the grand jury which investigated the alleged mysterious death of his wife at the Westchester-Biltmore Country club, several weeks ago.

Patrick I. Murphy, foreman of the jury in filing a presentment with Justice Morschauser, formally dismissing the case, said in part:

"Ordinarily, a dismissal would suffice, but, due to the widespread public interest that has been given this investigation, the grand jury feels that a further report should be made."

"After a careful study of the testimony of the witnesses, we are convinced that the death of Mrs. Webb was due to natural causes."

"Accusations have been made before this body and through the public press, which, if true, would seriously affect the status of Charles Webb, the husband of the deceased."

"We therefore deem it our duty to say emphatically that all of these accusations are without the slightest foundation and we fully and completely exonerate Mr. Webb."

Says Crime Committed

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Westchester county authorities now possess evidence that a crime was committed in connection with the death of Mrs. Gertrude Elmy Gorman Webb, the actress, who died at the Westchester-Biltmore Country club, last month.

That statement was made by a county official who asked that his name be withheld. He stated that all new clues pointed toward one man. Today the grand jury will hand down its verdict.

LOWELL MASONS ATTEND TEMPLAR VESPERS

Many Lowell Masons attended the Templar vespers held in Tremont Temple, Boston, yesterday afternoon, as a part of the observance of the 75th anniversary of the M. M. M. commandery, No. 7, and at which the Lowell Masonic choir, Albert Edmund Brown, director, gave the musical program. Wilfred Kershaw was organist and accompanist.

As was announced in this paper last week, the local organization of 60 voices made the trip to and from Boston by automobiles and their participation in the service was one of its outstanding features.

The sermon, "The Religion of the People," was preached by Rev. Melville H. Lightner, pastor of the Central Congregational church of Newton.

The full order of service follows: The Organ Prelude, "Prelude from 'Parsifal'"; Wilfred Kershaw.

Onward Christian Soldiers, hymn, "Our Hymn, 'A Mighty Fortress Is Our God'"; The Scripture Lesson, John 3: 21; Anthem, "The Lord Is My Shepherd"; The Prayer (Concluding with the Lord's Prayer); "Abide With Me"; Monk Choir Hymn, "Marche Religieuse"; The Offering, Organ, "Gullmatt's Sette"; Wilfred Kershaw.

The offering is for the benefit of The Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children.

The hymn of the Covenant, "The Sermon, 'The Religion of the People'"; By Sir Knight the Rev. Melville H. Lightner, Minister at the Central Congregational Church of Newton.

Prayer, Anthem, "Prayer of Thanksgiving"; The Benediction, Organ Postlude, "Hallelujah Chorus"; Handel.

Wilfred Kershaw, Organist, Sir William W. Chute, Recessional.

a presentment but the case will be continued regardless of its nature.

"The problem now is not whether a charge may be lodged against the man," the official said, "but rather which of several charges will best hold water in court. Mrs. Webb came to her death in some subtle manner."

SUGGESTION TO PROHIBIT HEAVY TRUCKING IN NESMITH STREET GENERALLY APPROVED

Public Service Board May Recommend That All Heavy Traffic Proceed by Way of High Street—Nesmith Street Speedsters Stopped and Warned by Motorcycle Officer Murphy

Appropos the limiting of traffic in Nesmith street to the exclusion of all heavy trucking, several men interviewed by The Sun today endorsed the suggestion offered by a city official Saturday to the effect that High street be used by heavy trucks. The consensus of opinion seems to be that High street is much better suited for heavy trucks inasmuch as the street is wider than Nesmith street and the roadbed there is older and firmer than the new paving in Nesmith street. There can be no objection to the approach to High street and to use it for heavy traffic, it is argued, would be the common sense view of the situation when considered from all angles.

It is believed that when the board of public service is called upon to pass upon the question of the great need of limiting traffic in Nesmith street, once it is completely rebuilt and open for use, that the board will favor High street for heavy trucking.

Speedsters Warned

Motorcycle Officer Frank Murphy of the Lowell police force spent the greater part of his duty tour Sunday on Nesmith street.

While no arrests were made or summonses issued, several drivers were halted by the motorcycle officer and cautioned. Supt. Atkinson said today that he was well satisfied with the conduct of the officer who reported to him that as the street was but newly repaved the temptation to "step on the gas" was great with many motorists.

Residents of the section area breathing easier today because the police have at last taken official cognizance of the deplorable state of affairs that was existing there. The antics of joyriders were much modified Sunday, due to a great extent to the presence on the scene of the motorcycle officer.

Satisfaction that the police have finally awakened to conditions in that section was expressed on every side. It was quite generally feared that fatalities would result before police action to check reckless and drunken drivers who had been making a speedway of the newly-paved thoroughfare was taken.

The modified condition that prevailed Sunday did much to relieve the fears of Nesmith street residents who for days have been afraid to permit their children out of the house to play in the neighborhood, so great was the danger from speeding motorists.

Now that it is well passed that police have awakened to the state of affairs that was so noticeable in the neighborhood, arrogant motorists will no doubt for a time at least look for other fields.
